RAID ON A BAWDY HOUSE.—On Saturday night about 12 o'clock a posse of police, acting under instruction, and in accordance with the vicious system pursued here of collecting licenses from bawdy-houses, made a raid upon the establishment 235 John street north, kept by Gussie Moore. In addition to the proprietress, Sarah Newman, Nellie Smith and Eliza Carnie, were found there and placed under arrest as inmates. Two young men were also "pulled" at the same place, charged with being frequenters. The women seemed to enjoy themselves at the police station last night.

AFTER TWENTY-ONE YEARS.—On Friday morning a respectable looking gray-haired man, named Joseph Hackett, appeared in the Police Court, at the instance of his wife, who asked that she might be granted a deed of protection from him. Her petition showed that for twenty-one years she had lived a life of suffering, supporting herself, her children and her husband, while he rendered the task more arduous by a system of constant abuse. He strenuously objected to the deed being granted, claiming that he had no money to keep himself, but on the woman handing him a dollar he consented. The order was then signed by the magistrate, and after twenty-one years of married life they passed through separate doors to commence life afresh.—Toronto Mail

HEROIC ACT.—The Jarvis Record gives what it thinks was a brave act on the part of Miss Annie Elliott, daughter of Mr. Robert Elliott, Walpole. On Monday last the wind was blowing rather hard, which resulted in a tree falling across the H. & N. W. Railway track, about half a mile south of this village. Miss Elliott, who was coming to Jarvis by way of the railroad, saw the tree lying across the track. She immediately took off her hat and gloves, which she laid on the side of the road, and commenced to clear the debris away. Fortunately the tree was badly broken by its fall, which made it easier for her to perform the operation, but there were some large chunks which she was unable to lift. At these large pieces she worked bravely, and had scarcely succeeded in rolling them out of the way when the evening train came thundering by. Now, this is what we call a brave act, and one which the railway company should feel grateful for. Few young ladies would have gone to work as Miss Elliott did.

WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE.

During the midsummer weeks our columns have been pretty well taxed to keep our readers informed on matters educational. The Wesleyan Female College has come in for its share, yet a few words additional will be interesting to our readers. The success of the past year, coupled with the fact that the College is entirely unembarrassed financially, has given a new impetus to the institution, and the Directors who, by the way, stand amongst our most enterprising and successful citizens, are determined to spare no expense to keep the College where it has long found itself to be in the very front rank. The jump in, rushed to the spot and succeeded in rescuing her in a half-drowned condition. She was taken to Mr. Horton's house where she was attended to. Word having been sent to the police station Constable Littlehales proceeded to the house. Objection was made to taking the young woman from there, the statement being made that a doctor had pronounced her condition unfavorable to removal. Littlehales sent for Dr. Mills, who decided that there would be no danger whatever in removing her. She was accordingly taken in charge by the constable and conveyed to jail. Dr. Mills stated that she had been in the hospital with a loathsome disease about a year ago.

Fanny's explanation of her suicidal act was to the effect that she had come into the city from Milton by the Saturday evening train on the H. & N. W. Railway, for the purpose of visiting Mrs. Brush, whom she had formerly known in Grimsby. Instead of going to Mrs. Brush's, however, she was taken off by the cabman whom she engaged, and with him she spent the night. With the morning came remorse and shame, and then she resolved to die, with what success has already been told. It is possible that there will be some interesting developments in connection with the case. The cabman has been arrested.

A VICTIM OF APOPLEXY.

Sudden Death of a Dundas Man While Driving into the City.

Shortly after 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon considerable excitement was caused in the city by a report that a man had dropped dead on King street west. Inquiry revealed that the rumor was only too true, and that Mr. William Pasmore, harness maker, of Dundas, was the unfortunate victim. The deceased left Dundas in the afternoon in company with Mr. Woodcock for a drive to the city. When just approaching Hess street Mr. Pasmore suddenly fell forward in the buggy, apparently in a swoon. His companion quickly raised him up, and observing that something serious was the matter drove to Mr. Howard's butcher shop, and had him conveyed inside and laid on the floor. Messengers were sent in various directions for medical aid, and in a short time Drs. Woolverton, Stark and Philp were in attendance. Their services were not required, however, for before they arrived the vital spark had fled. The doctors gave it as their opinion that death was caused by a fit of apoplexy. The body was removed to the dead-house, King William street, and the news of the fatal occurrence was telegraphed to friends in Dundas, who arrived during the evening and conveyed it home.

Mr. Pasmore had been a resident of Dundas for many years, and was much respected. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely death.

ORITUARY.

At the close of the heats each and the several false the word was given to a. Very fair start the Spot in the lead. On turning the Byron Cole broke and indulged in a lit to his advantage. At the quarter the was leading with Cole second, and Gar third. At the half the positions were changed, with the exception that Cole crept up to a good second, and was p the leader hard for first place. three quarter Byron Cole had cellar Colt and pushed him so hard that he commenced to run, which he k until crossing the score. After a debate by the judges he was set third place, and the heat given to Col Garafraxa second.

No time.

There was a great deal of dissatisfaction shown by many of these present at the of this race. The general opinion was Garafraxa had been pulled, so as to let Byron Cole to win and thus save those who had money in the pool-box. The judges were bitterly denounced for not pulling the pools off, but they doubtless they thought was square.

PACING RACE.

On the second attempt the horses went off to a fair start, with Lady Price at the head and with a little the best of the start rounding the bend Sunnyside went first, and had to be pulled almost to the before she got away again, which put her of the race. At the quarter-pole Lady was leading by about four lengths, with second, Dundas third, and Sunnyside fourth. On going up the back stretch half-mile Dundas made a rush for the passing Dan and going into second place the upper turn a splendid race took place between Lady Price and Dundas for first, but the mare proved the fastest and won the heat, with Dundas second, Dan third, Sunnyside fourth.

SECOND HEAT.—On the third attempt the word was given to a very good start rounding the bend Lady Price went front and took the lead, which she maintained until near the quarter pole, when Dan to the front by a nose, in which position kept pacing like a double team until the mile-pole was reached, when Dundas shook up and went for the leader, which he passed at the three-quarter. Coming the stretch he was pulled up and jogged the score an easy winner, Lady Price Sunnyside 3rd, Dan 4th.

THIRD HEAT.—After several false starts the word was given. On rounding the bend Dundas had the lead, but before the quarter-pole Dan went to the front and took the lead by about five lengths, Lady Price 2nd, and Dundas 3rd. At the point to the three quarters the positions were unchanged. On coming the do

Her legs were one mass of bruises, and she said that some of her ribs were broken. She could only move about with the help of a clutch. She applied for a counter-warrant, which was issued, and which the police executed last night. It was impossible yesterday to remove the woman from her house.

VERY SATISFACTORY.—The well known and

McCarroll why he was hindering the men; McCarroll denied having done so; Spence asked me if McCarroll lived at my house; I said he did; Spence said he would arrest him, and took him away; McCarroll stood with his hands in his pockets and was not doing anything when Spence came up; he was behaving quietly; they both then started down Caroline street and I did not see McCarroll again until I saw him having his head washed; that was at Broadbent's gate; Cooper was washing it; they "fell in" there together; from the time they "fell in" house for water and washed McCarroll; after a few minutes McCarroll was got up, but didn't want to go; while they were in the yard I heard McCarroll call Spence a —; I could not see what took place in the yard on account of the crowd, but I heard McCarroll call Spence a — like he did before every time he struck him; after they came out of the yard Spence struck McCarroll on the shoulder; somehow or the other McCarroll fell; I do not know how; I saw Spence kick him but did not see where he did kick him; he was up then; owing to the large crowd I could not get a good view of all; whilst McCarroll was on the ground Spence dragged him about a yard by the twitch. McCarroll was lying sideways; Spence dragged him by the "twitch" into the middle of the road and beat him repeatedly whilst he was on the ground; Proutie then came and a wagon was got; when McCarroll was lifted into it.

Cross-examined—Spence kicked McCarroll, in some place, as I heard him "holer" and people said he was kicking him; McCarroll did not, that I saw, strike Spence, but he got hold of his baton; I was horrified at a policeman striking a man; nothing happened, all went on all right till they came to the fence, when McCarroll got hold of it; the twitch was fastened over the cloth of McCarroll's coat; I did not see McCarroll strike Spence, nor see blood or cuts on Spence's face; I did not go along and follow the matter up with the object of seeing fun; I saw the policeman strike, but not McCarroll; I have spoken with other witnesses about this; with Mr. Boyd and Mrs. Blue, and I told McCarroll I was not desirous of being called as a witness.

Re-examined—The police have not asked me anything about this; McCarroll could not have struck Spence at the fence as both his hands were engaged; it is hardly possible McCarroll could have struck Spence without my seeing it; McCarroll could not have struck Spence with the baton, as each one had hold of it.

At one o'clock the Court adjourned till four. The Magistrate intimated that he would not decide the case, but would send it to a superior court.

The hearing of the case of McCarroll against Spence was resumed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

WILLIAM J. MCCARROLL, the plaintiff, was the first witness called, and on account of his weakness was accommodated with a seat. He testified as follows: I remember part of what happened on the 10th June: I first saw Spence at the corner; I told him I had not been doing anything and would leave it to Chantler; I went over with Spence; I do not remember what was said; Spence arrested me and took me by the shoulder down Caroline street; I told him if he would let go I would walk down with him; he did not comply, but put the "twitch" on me; I don't know which hand; I took hold of the fence; I could not say where exactly; at that time he gave me three or four jerks with the "twitch"; he then hauled out and hit me with his baton; I know no more until I found myself in the hospital at four o'clock in the morning; I recollect no more owing to the effects of the blows. I had a glass or two on that day, but was not bad. I said nothing uncivil, merely stating that I had done nothing to be arrested. He showed me no warrant; he merely charged me with preventing the men from working. I came out of the hospital next day, and went back to Mr. Blue's. I got out of the house for the first time yesterday for a short while. My head is not well yet. The doctors have had trouble with one wound which they had to open.

Cross-examined—It happened at about 4.30 p.m.; did not feel well and did not go to work that day. I was in three saloons that afternoon. I did not know the men before. I said four or five words to this Cochrane, telling him the scuffling was rotten. (The witness' evidence was similar to that previously given on this point.) I did not swear nor say that no policeman could arrest me. It was on my way home, and I had no right to interfere, but I spoke because a plank broke under my feet the day before. I could not say if they were repairing that very plank. Witness admitted that he did not go home when Cochrane went for the police, but, passing his door, walked on round the block and then came back to the opposite side of the street. Spence told me to go on and then grabbed me; I told him to arrest me, adding that I had not done anything; I was as peaceful as a lamb; I gave no provocation, but said I would walk down if he let go of his hold; I pulled back a bit, then he put the "twitch" on me; I had not hold of the fence when he put the "twitch" on; I walked some distance arrival in the fair Dominion coolly ordered the patrol-sergeant to have the gates of the park thrown open to him at once. He was politely informed that the police had no voice in the matter. "Confound you, dem'd fellow, if you had a number I'd take it, hand make a charge against you. You hought hall of you to be numbered." Perhaps the Chief of Police will act on the suggestion of this benighted Englishman. A wag in the crowd suggested that "donkeys should also be numbered when they left their country."

WAS IT SENSATIONAL?—The Times has been "informed" that the paragraph in yesterday's SPECTATOR in reference a threatened attack on a H. & N. W. Railway train was "altogether sensational." Instead of being "informed" our contemporary has probably drawn on his imagination for his conclusions. It is rather unusual for crowds to gather in out-of-the-way quarters on dark nights to see trains pass, even on such an important day as the Twelfth of July, unless they have sinister designs. At any rate the matter was considered of sufficient importance for Chief McMonomy to send a squad of police to the scene; and our information was received from members of the squad, who doubtless knew whereof they were speaking.

ACCIDENT ON THE H. & N. W. R.—Shortly before 1 o'clock Tuesday an accident occurred on the Hamilton & Northwestern Railway, which might have been attended by serious consequences, but which, fortunately, did not result in serious damage either to property or life. As the train from Jarvis was approaching the brow of the mountain some bolts broke in the machinery of the engine and the driver lost control of it. He immediately whistled "down brakes," and by dint of great exertion the train was stopped just before reaching the top of the incline. The passengers walked down to the station, all very glad at their escape from what might have been a disaster. Had the train gained headway down the slope the result would doubtless have been very bad.

RECEPTION AT R. E. CHURCH.—Last evening a social entertainment was held in the lecture room of St. James R. E. Church, the occasion being the first visit to the congregation of Rev. Dr. Wilson, Bishop of the Synod of Canada. Despite the unfavorable state of the weather for indoor entertainments and the different counter attractions there was a large turnout to welcome the Rev. Dr. The Rev. Mr. Fitzpatrick, in a short address, welcomed the Bishop on behalf of the congregation, which was appropriately responded to. The balance of the proceedings were of an informal character and consisted of songs, music, etc., in which the following took part: Mrs. Townsend, Misses Williams, Chittenden, Hilton and Mr. Hilton. The members of the Ladies' Aid Society, under whose auspices the entertainment was held, were present in full force, and supplied refreshments, consisting of ice-cream, cakes, etc. The affair was altogether thoroughly sociable, and was highly enjoyed by all present.

THE DUNDURN CROWN.—The general sentiment among those who happened unfortun-

to pick it up he dragged McCarroll by the "twitch"; having got his baton, he dragged McCarroll to the middle of the street and then kicked him; after kicking him he held him by the "twitch" in the middle of the road; McCarroll lay there as if dead, without a breath; Spence kicked him whilst he was apparently lifeless; Spence struck him on the arms whilst he was lying on the broad of his back in the street; I then walked home.

Cross-examined—Did not see McCarroll strike or kick at Spence at all, at any time; by the time I saw McCarroll having his head washed, he did not kick or strike at Spence because he was unable to do so.

To the Magistrate—I did not see what took place because I went into my house immediately after they left my gate; young Bruce came and told me that something had happened, and then I went to Broadbent's gate.

ROBERT CHANTLER.—On the 10th June I was working on the sidewalk opposite Mrs. Blue's with a man named Cochrane; I saw a wagon coming along and McCarroll jumped out of it; he began playing and came where my mate and I were working, and he addressed me with the following words: "Well, boss, are you going to make a sidewalk?" I said yes; he was standing on the scuffling and was in my way; McCarroll then said to Cochrane to take up the old scuffling and put down a new one because it was rotten; Dennis said it was not and told him to move away or he would get a policeman, and he went for one; the policeman came and McCarroll was then 60 feet from me on the opposite side of the street, not interfering with me; he was standing there looking up Caroline street quietly, not interfering with anybody; Cochrane and the policeman came over and Spence asked me if McCarroll had said anything to me or given me annoyance; I told Spence he was not justified in coming nor Cochrane in fetching him; Cochrane and McCarroll began arguing the point, and Spence told McCarroll if he did not move away he would arrest him and did so; "Well, arrest me," said McCarroll, and that was all he said; there was no swearing by the policeman at the time or by any of the parties; the constable and his prisoner then went down Caroline street; I repeat McCarroll did nothing to be arrested for; he was standing quietly on the street.

Cross examined—Cochrane went and complained on his own responsibility; Cochrane was "boss," McCarroll got out of the way, when Cochrane fetched the policeman and went homewards and then came back to the spot where he was arrested; Spence spoke pretty civilly; he said: "go away, or I'll arrest you;" I worked there the whole afternoon.

SAMUEL J. HEATH, upholsterer.—On the 10th June last I was working at Haeker's place, opposite Mrs. Blue's place; I saw McCarroll get out of a wagon by her gate; I saw him chaffing the men who were working at the sidewalk with putting down rotten scuffling; Cochrane got a little excited and said if he did not go away he'd fetch the police, which he did; McCarroll said he had done nothing for that. (The evidence here given was almost verbatim with that of the foregoing witness.) Spence said a second time to McCarroll: "I'll take you down," and the latter replied: "Well, take me down;" Spence then did take him away down Caro-

Detroit belle some time since received news from an Eastern city a very hand-drawing umbrella, and she had it out the lay for the first time. Taking a Wood-venue car for a short ride, she reached the side of the umbrella up to pull the bell when she desired to get off. As she down the umbrella began to lengthen, her feelings may be imagined when she the umbrella in her hand and a sword-rangament about two feet long dangled the strap above her head. This new umbrella handles didn't seem to strike forcibly, and as the car halted she left orations behind her, and seemed a good infused when a man called after her: "I never depend upon them things in a You'd better get a Derringer!"

"A BAD BACK SLAP."

Under the above caption the Hamilton Times copies with very evident gusto a paragraph from yesterday's London Free Press containing some random vapors by Mr. T. G. Davey, of the latter city, concerning the circulation of the SPECTATOR. Copying statements from other journals is about all the Times can do in the way of touching on the SPECTATOR's circulation. We have repeatedly challenged them to a comparison during the past two years. The chance still remains open to them of earning a hundred dollars by proving that their circulation is not at least a thousand less than that of the SPECTATOR. Cannot our city contemporary summon up courage enough to say something on its own account respecting this matter?

EVENING EDITION.

B. & N. W. RAILROAD.

The Officers of the Company on a Tour of Inspection. The following officials arrived in town yesterday, with the object of making their annual inspection of the line: Col. Gray, Acting General Manager, James Webster, Superintendent, M. C. Dickson, Assistant Superintendent, Wm. Jones, Chief Engineer, Robt. Kerr, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Walter Townsend, Secretary, D'Arcy Boulton, Solicitor, Catcher, Bridge Inspector, Clarke, Mechanical Superintendent, Schreiber, wood agent, Bagwell, road-master and Postle- thwaite, purchasing agent. They travelled in the Company's new special car, the train being in charge of Mr. C. Alverston. Last night the party visited the Beach, stopping at the Ocean House, and this morning they left for Port Dover; they returned this afternoon and are now engaged in inspecting the buildings and workshops of the Company.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John Stook, County Treasurer of Wentworth, is enjoying his vacation at present. Mr. John Gillen arrived in London last evening looking well and hearty. He has gained several pounds in weight during his cricketing tour in the Old Country. Mr. Wm. Askin, of Sarnia, has received a bronze medal for his bravery in saving Master Peter Murray from drowning in the river St. Clair in April last. Mayor Grant, of Stratford, has attended to business so closely that his health has been seriously impaired, and he has been forced to seek rest and retirement. Bishop Walsh, of London, and Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, have engaged rooms at the Oriental House, Coney Island, and are expected to arrive there this week. Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt will probably not return from Europe until October. The venerable Dr. Trench, Archbishop of Dublin, is described as having a clever face. Colonel Tom Scott improves slightly, and he has much more pleasure than he used to have when he was busy with railroad affairs. But he is far from being a well man.

A SELFISH LOT.

(London Free Press.) The Globe will not hear of a new Custom House in Hamilton, a long needed measure, but is at all times ready to lay down its life for the expenditure of a cool million at Toronto, in behalf of needless Parliamentary buildings. Not long since, it was howling for the disestablishment of the Military College time of his death he was only 20 years of age. He came to Hamilton with his family in 1855 and soon obtained employment in the Great Western Railway shops, where he remained for a period of ten years. On the 28th of October, 1865, he was appointed a constable on the police force, of which Capt. Nichol was at that time chief. Three years after he rose to the position of detective, and subsequently, when Chief Henery was appointed governor of the jail, he became sergeant. Afterwards, when the office of sergeant-major was created he was the first to be appointed, and some four years ago, signed to assume a post. Mr. McMenemy succeeded him. POLICE COURT.

Before His Worship the Police Magis- trate.

THURSDAY, July 29th.

DRUNK.

Charles Gray was fined $6 or 60 days.

Catharine Sylvester was fined $5 or 40 days.

LARCENIES.

Geo. Jenkins was charged with larceny, but the case was adjourned till Monday. Catharine Sylvester and Mary Quelet were charged with a similar offence but were dis- missed. Ann Brannigan was also up for the same and got 6 months in the Central Prison removing goods.

T. Brick was charged with unlawfully re- moving goods. Adjourned till to-morrow.

WILFUL DAMAGE.

James Hammond was up charged with damaging, wilfully, a street car. It appears that the damage was the result of gross care- lessness on Hammond's part, and he was very saucy when spoken to about it. He was fined $5, damages $3, costs $2, and witness- $1; total $11. He could have settled the case by paying $1 for damages in the first place.

THIEF-TAKING.

A boy named McNeal was before the Magis- trate for trespassing and stealing apples. Ad- journed. Laundry, a boy also charged with the same offence, was fined 30 cents, and $3.20 costs; total, $3.50.

COWS AT LARGE.

The Dogherty and Connors cases, that were adjourned from the 20th inst., were argued again and dismissed. Mrs. Smith, who had been fined $2, asked to have her fine re- mitted, as her husband had been sick and could not work. It was granted.

THE BISMARCK CASE.

The Bismarck case was up this morning and created a good deal of merriment. The complainant had fallen desperately in love with defendant's wife, and defendant had used strong language only to frighten plaintiff away. The case was dismissed.

GARDEN PARTY AT BRONTE.

For weeks the ladies in connection with the M. E. church of Bronte have been exerting themselves towards having a grand garden party to be given at Mr. Curtis' beautiful residence on the lake shore, between Port Nelson and Bronte. The clerk of the weather evi- dently favors the lake shore ladies, and their effort of last evening was crowned with suc- cess. The lawn sloping to the lake was bril- liantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and tents for the sale of ice cream, lemonade and bouquets were placed at different corners. The young ladies waited on all who asked and they were kept busy. At 8.30 the Dennis Bowen put in an appearance from Hamilton and the party she brought met a warm recep- tion from the crowd gathered on the wharf. The Hamiltonians appeared to greatly enjoy the primitive mode of going ashore from the Bowen, which could not go close to the shore

—Dr. Paul, of Philadelphia, advertised him- self as "the world renowned wizard of human destiny," and offered to conduct the love and marriage affairs of others; but he seems to have mismanaged his own, for he is now in jail for bigamy.

—Vestruis electrically illuminated appears now nightly as the "mountain of light" of the Eastern fable. The indescribable grandeur of the spectacle attracts to Naples thousands of tourists from the most distant countries of Europe and America.

—A wine merchant at Rheims, in France, is the owner of two hundred bottles of cham- pagne which he says he will not sell at any price, because it was the only lot in any cellar of the city that escaped the clutches of the German soldiers during the war of 1870.

—The exporters of marble from Italy com- plain that, under the Custom House manage- ment of John Sherman, they are very much annoyed and embarrassed in entering their staple product into American ports; the rules and duties vary constantly, and the rates de- cided between our Consuls and dealers are ignored by customs officials.

—A silly American youth who had an- nounced on the steamer that "in England I'm always taken for an Englishman, you know," was disgusted when, on demanding, "One first, single, Ruston," at the Liverpool sta- tion, the clerk said, "Seven dollars and a-half, please." It was paid, amid the unsuppressed merriment of his companions.

—The new passenger omnibuses for Phila- delphia are as handy as our old-fashioned omnibuses are unhandy. They have im- mense wheels, between which the body hangs close to the ground. There is a low platform in the rear, so that ingress is easy. The roof is eight feet above the floor, affording com- fort to tall men. There are seats for eight persons; one horse draws the vehicle.

—An English prelate a year or two prior to his being raised to the Episcopate, remarked to a friend that a visit to Switzerland had long been a day dream with him, which he feared might never be accomplished. It is so with very many of his brethren. An Engli- sh clergyman's life is, for the most part, one of unceasing toil, and his emoluments, unless he be a man of private means, permit of little holiday making. Such men regard with much surprise the crowd of clerical holiday makers who swarm each year to Europe from this side of the Atlantic.

MONETARY & COMMERCIAL.

HAMILTON WHOLESALE MARKETS.

WEDNESDAY, July 28.

GROCERIES.

There is an active business doing in all depart- ment. Teas.—There is a smart advance in all kinds. In New York it amounts to a "boom." Holders getting their prices easily. Japans have ad- vanced fully 5c. per lb. in that market. The auc- tion sale last Thursday in New York went off with great spirit, for all kinds of goods especially. A considerable business has been done during the last week on English account, not half of the lots bid upon were on hand when cablegrams reached, everything desirable being picked up as soon as placed on the market. Cable advices from Japan report an advance of 21 to 22, "with a rising market." Black teas have advanced from 1d to 2d etc., equal to 1 and 4c. The sales in this market have been fairly large. Country dealers are light in stocks and the prospects for a good fall trade induce more liberal orders from the country. Teas are relatively cheaper here than in the other markets. Sugar.—The demand is good at the advanced prices. Stocks of all sweets in the sugar islands are pretty much exhausted for the season. Coffee are about as last quoted. Currants and Syrup.—Contrary to the usual state of the market in the summer, these arti- cles show considerable improvement. In Mon- tral molasses advanced fully 7c. per gal. last week. Syrup are firm and considerably enquired for. Currants.—Sound fruit are in good demand. Valencias are very scarce.

A Cool Thief.—Thursday, Mrs. Irwin, residing at 77 Merriek street, fainted on the James street market. Whilst on the ground, she dropped a purse containing $3; a young girl passing by picked it up. She was not stopped, as those present surmised that she was an acquaintance of Mrs. Irwin. She has, however, been identified by two persons pre-prise of these gentlemen would be successful. After recounting some reminiscences of the personal acquaintance of his father with Chief Brant, the reverend speaker alluded to the scheme of constructing a monument in his honor. The Prince of Wales, he understood, had subscribed generously to the Brant Memorial Fund, and he trusted the project would ere long be successfully carried out. He also alluded to the efforts which had

The Hamiltonians appeared to greatly enjoy the primitive mode of going ashore from the Bowen, which could not go close to the shore for lack of water and landed all her passengers in the pinnace.

A musical programme of a high order was rendered, under the direction of Miss Marlatt, Miss Lyle and Mrs. Gage, of Iowa; Miss Hoodless, of Hamilton; Miss McKay, of Bronte; Miss Curtis and the Messrs. Davidson, of Burlington; Mr. Hoodless, of Hamilton, and an orchestra under Prof. Johnston, of Toronto, made a programme that kept all interested until 11.30, when fair Luna was in all her glory over the lake and lighted the tired but happy pleasure-seekers to their homes. It is to be hoped that the ladies will repeat the social of last evening very soon with as good results.

H. & N. W. RAILROAD.

The Officers of the Company on a Tour of Inspection.

The following officials arrived in town on Tuesday, with the object of making an annual inspection of the line: Col. Gray, Acting General Manager, James Webster, Superintendent, M. C. Dickson, Assistant Superintendent, Wm. Jones, Chief Engineer, Robt. Kerr, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Walter Townsend, Secretary, D'Arcy Boulton, Solicitor, Catcher, Bridge Inspector, Clarke, Mechanical Superintendent, Schreiber, wood agent, Bagwell, road-master and Postlethwaite, purchasing agent. They travelled in the Company's new special car, the train being in charge of Mr. C. Alverson. On arriving the party visited the Beach, stopping at the Ocean House, and yesterday morning they left for Port Dover; they returned in the afternoon, reaching the King street station at 3.25. During their trip they visited all the stations along the line, inspecting the track, bridges and buildings. The permanent way and the fences are being repaired. Everything was found in first-class order. On returning to town the elevator, which is to be turned over to the Company by the Warehousing Co., was visited, and at five o'clock the party left for Toronto. The train conveying them was drawn by the old "Eric," driven by Williams, and Conductors Begley, Dickson and Alverson had the train in charge at intervals.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John Stock, County Treasurer of Wentworth, is enjoying his vacation at present. Mr. John Gillean arrived in London Wednesday looking well and hearty. He has gained several pounds in weight during his cricketing tour in the Old Country. Mr. Wm. Askin, of Sarnia, has received a bronze medal for his bravery in saving Master Peter Murray from drowning in the river St. Clair in April last. Mayor Grant, of Stratford, has attended to business so closely that his health has been seriously impaired, and he has been forced to seek rest and retirement. Bishop Walsh, of London, and Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, have engaged rooms at the Oriental House, Coney Island, and are expected to arrive there this week. Richard Wagner, composer, writes that if a will be produced. The McDowell returned from a very successful innipeg, and it is hardly necessary to bespeak large audiences for them, as they are favorites with our theatre-goers.

New Customs Broker.—Mr. Samuel Townsend announces by means of a card, another column, that he has opened office for the transaction of customs broker at shipping agent business, and promises prompt attention to all invoices or other matters entrusted to him. An experience of three years with Mr. Chas. Beatty has thoroughly acquainted Mr. Townsend with the business upon which he has entered and he will doubt be liberally patronized. His office are Brokers' Room, Customs House, and Messrs. Rutherford & Lester's, 54 James street north.

RELIEF OF DERRY.—The Orange Young Britons and True Blues have completed the arrangements for their grand excursion to Ingersoll on the 12th of August, and a splendid time is in store for those who intend to participate. The Ingersoll park, one of the finest in Canada, has been kindly granted for the occasion. Special arrangements have been made with the G. W. R. to carry excursionists through to Ingersoll at the low fare of $1.00, and those who desire to do so can go to London for an additional 50 cents; children, half fare. Train leaves G.W.R. station at 8.45 a.m.; returning, will leave London at 5.45 p.m., Ingersoll, 6.30 p.m. For further particulars see advertisement, which will appear in a few days.

AROUND THE WORLD.

—The income of the Goldsmith Company of London averages $250,000 a year, and its expenditure on entertainments $85,000. —A man at Augusta, Ga., on receiving doctor's bill for medicine and visits, wrote that he would pay for the medicine and return the visits. —Gambetta has been dubbed a "Genoa Caesar" by Rochefort, and proclaimed as dangerous to the French republic as Julius Caesar was to Rome. —A voodoo conjurer at Anderson, S. A. H. Windsor were personal, and after his services he knocked the preacher down with a club. —The Rev. Mr. Chainey, a Unitarian pastor at Evansville, Ind., declared his disbelief in God, and was promptly expelled from the church. This he had expected; but now he has also suffered expulsion from his Masonic lodge. —Dr. Paul, of Philadelphia, advertised himself as "the world renowned wizard of human destiny," and offered to conduct the love and marriage affairs of others; but he seems to have mismanaged his own, for he is now in jail for bigamy. —Vesuvius electrically illuminated appeared now nightly as the "mountain of light" of the Eastern fable. vacant, and will be filled another evening. On Tuesday next an examination will take place for promotion to the ranks of bombardier and corporal.

THE OSBORNE CASE.—The K. O. T. M. case against Mr. Osborne, of Buffalo, was brought before the London Police Magistrate Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. Osborne, who was bailed, did not put in an appearance, being in the United States. The case was discharged, the decision of the P. M. being that the property be handed over to Mr. W. D. McGloshon on the writ of replevin. Osborne is liable to be arrested any time he makes his appearance in Canada.

S. S. PICNIC.—Thursday the children belonging to the Sunday School in connection with the King street Methodist Church left in two detachments, at one and at two o'clock, per Eclipse, for Oaklands, there to enjoy their annual picnic. Together with their friends, they numbered some 500, and were accompanied by Rev. Messrs. Henderson and Wakefield. Mr. James Mathews, Superintendent, Mr. S. H. Kent, Secretary, and their teachers. They will return at 6 p.m.

A KLEPTOMANIAC.—Yesterday a well-dressed woman entered the boot and shoe store of Messrs. Scott & Richardson, and took off her shoes, ostensibly for the purpose of trying on a new pair. Whilst Mr. Richardson was waiting upon another customer she quietly slipped on a pair of slippers, and would as quietly have slipped out in true slippery fashion had the deed not been witnessed. She pleaded hard for mercy, and was allowed to go after restoring what she was about to take away.

SAVE THE BOY.—Mrs. Nugent, whose son was fined at the Police Court a couple of days ago for interfering with the police and also bound over to keep the peace for intemperate language in Court, called on us yesterday to say that the young man is not a rowdy, as he was called. She states that he has always been a good boy and has worked hard for her. Taking her story as true, it is very unfortunate that her son has recently got into such bad company. It is hoped that his late experience in the Police Court will have a beneficial effect on him.

TREBLE'S has determined to clear out the balance of his immense summer stock, and has reduced every article to cost price. You will save money by inspecting Treble's stock before buying elsewhere. Treble's, 8 King street east.

Mr. A. Munn, the poet-laureate of the Society, who spoke eloquently for a short time, and then would up by singing "The Maple Leaf," the words and music both being his own composition. There was hearty applause at the close of the song.

A vote of thanks to the Pioneers for the entertainment they had provided was moved by Mr. W. Laidlaw, of Toronto, seconded by Mr. W. F. McMahon, of this city, and unanimously accorded.

The National Anthem was then sung, three hearty cheers given for the Queen, and at six o'clock the Pioneers embarked by the Southern Belle for home, all well pleased with the manner in which they had spent the day.

LAUGHING OFF A DUEL.

"Speaking of the Cash-Shannon duel," said the exchange fiend, putting his feet in the waste basket, "we need a few men like Judge Dooly. He laughed out of duels with an audacious wit that compelled even the admiration of his enemies. You remember he said, when they threatened if he didn't fight that his name would fill the columns of a newspaper, that he had rather fill ten newspapers than one coffin. Once he went to the field with a man that had St. Vitus' dance. His frame jerking nervously from his malady, Dooly, in the soberest manner, left his post, and cutting a forked stick stuck it in the ground in front of his opponent."

"What does this mean?" asked his opponent.

"Why," says Dooly, "I want you to rest your pistol in that fork, so that you can steady your aim. If you shoot at me with that hand shaking so, you'll pepper me full of holes at the first fire."

"Then there was a laugh all around and the duel was put off without a day."—Atlantic Constitution.

THE WEATHER.
The following is the statement of temperature

ing or good weather. The large assembly present at the laying of the corner-stone of a building like the one in progress ought to be celebrated by our ceremonial. Dignity and importance are added to the occasion, and the public see that there are legitimate authorities on whom a call may be made for the discharge of such duties. The ceremonies of this day convey to the brethren a meaning appropriate to the occasion, and awaken in the heart of the most stolid and indifferent person feelings of respect and veneration. Indeed, to those who are not Masons this day's proceedings must create respect for an order which justly claims the title for its guide, and takes care that every ceremony has a meaning and tendency to impress on the mind the many excellences which adorn our profession. From the elevation and plans of the intended structure produced to me I am enabled to judge of the hand- some appearance the Masonic Temple will have better men. It is an institution that binds together those who have no other bonds of union, and enforces the practice of universal benevolence in those whose differences of religious and perhaps political opinion would, were it not for the Order, make them regard one another as enemies and not brethren. It places all Masons on a level. It teaches us to promote the same great end without offending each other in word or action. Free Masonry teaches us due obedience to the laws of the country in which we reside. On our entrance on the very threshold of the Order we are instructed to conform with cheerfulness to the Government of the country in which we live. Let us then, as Free and Accepted Masons of Canada, testify our respect and love for the Sovereign of these happy-realms by giving three hearty cheers for the Queen, God bless her.

THE TEMPLE.
The new building will be three stories in height in addition to a Mansard roof and basement. On Richmond-street there will be a frontage of 143 feet, taken up for the most part by the main entrance and eight stores, each 17 by 50 feet. On King-street there will be a frontage of 110 feet, divided up by stores and entrances in a similar manner. On this side the Opera House will be built, and will be distinctively marked from all other parts of the building. Above this main flat will be two additional stories, surmounted by a mansard roof and a small tower. The materials for the ground floor will be iron and sandstone, while the remainder will be built of red-pressed brick and Ohio stone, with illuminated tile belts at suitable points. On the Market-square there will be three stores similar in proportions to those on Richmond and King streets. The Masonic apartments will extend over the greater portion of the second floor, and they have been designed with a view to convenience and adaptability. The Opera House occupies the south-west corner of the third flat and covers a wide area. The auditorium will be 65 feet in length by 60 in width. The balance of the floor is divided up into eight offices, 17 x 35 feet each. In addition to these internal fittings, the roof, trimmings, and entrances, together with the tower, will give the structure a commanding and imposing appearance.

LIQUOR LICENSES.
Proceedings Against a Board of Commissioners for an Alleged Over-issue.
BELLEVILLE, Aug. 5.—An interesting case was tried in the Police Court yesterday, being a suit brought by William Sarsfield to recover from two of the License Commissioners and the License Inspector for West Hastings the penalty prescribed by law for issuing a too great number of licenses. From the evidence it appeared that they had issued 26 tavern licenses for the city of Belleville, the basis of population being 11,000, the prosecution contending that the limit was 25. In support of this a letter to a

Kelly as a witness in order to elicit this correcting evidence. His Honour said the rectification requested by Kelly had been communicated to him by the stenographer, and that he (His Honour) thought Kelly should be present when the argument respecting the alteration was taking place. An adjournment was then ordered till Tuesday next.

STEALING.
Henry Burch was this morning sentenced to three months in the Central Prison for stealing a pair of boots from Mr. Wilson's store, King-street. After he gets out he will have a reception from the Magistrate in Toronto, where he is wanted for stealing three dozen pair of gaiters, some parasols, etc., valued at $160, from the G. T. R. cars there. Burch is a professional thief, and hails from Rochester.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.
Thomas Alexander was charged at the Police Court this morning with receiving stolen goods—one of the watches stolen by Horn, Stewart, and Irwin, the counterfeiters now in goal here—but as there was no evidence against him he was discharged.

THE BRANCHTON ROBBERY.
Horn, Stewart, and Irwin, the three prisoners now in goal for counterfeiting, this morning pleaded guilty to the Branchton robbery on Stewart's confession being made known. Stewart confessed that Horn, Irwin, and himself went by train to Branchton on July 21st, and entering the house of Hugh White, chloroformed the inmates, and stole therefrom the sum of $50 in money, one gold watch, two silver watches, and a pair of jet bracelets. At the conclusion of reading the confession Stewart said they had lost a jummy and a mask on the night of the burglary, by witness. This finished the case, when the Magistrate said he would defer sentence until Monday. It is probable that if the other suspected parties are arrested the counterfeiting case will come up before Monday.

THE NEW CANADA LIFE BUILDING.
Messrs. Brown & Love, contractors, of Toronto, have declined to proceed with the building of the new premises of the Canada Life Assurance Company, owing to their having miscalculated the cost of brick and brickwork.

A VAGRANT LOCOMOTIVE.
The locomotive attached to the 3:15 Hamilton and North-Western Beach train yesterday broke loose and ran away from the train, much to the astonishment of the passengers and officials on board. No damage was done, however, and very little delay took place.

TEMPERANCE.
The temperance open air meeting was crowded last night as usual. The chair was occupied by Vice-President Wilson, Mr. J. W. Pittman, and Rev. E. Haskell, the temperance orator, who only yesterday returned from California, were the speakers of the evening.

RECOVERED FROM THE DRY.

while the slopes on either side are cleared and well-cultivated farm land. The western branch of the Credit is crossed just above the Forks by a long and high bridge, at the further end of which workmen are busy quarrying the red and grey sandstones which there crop out below the limestone. Continuing along the valley of the eastern branch about three miles we reach Church's Falls, where there is a succession of cascades on the river, the highest of which is twelve or fifteen feet. Here, 48 miles from Toronto, we get on the Elora branch, and making the ascent of the escarpment to the tableland by a steep incline, speed away north-westward through the splendid farming townships of Egin and Garafraxa. It is a fine rolling country, and the substantial stone dwellings, the heavy crops of oats and spring wheat, and the large and well cultivated fields of turnip, mangolds, and carrots give abundant evidence of the thrift of the people. At Dougherty we approach the Grand River, crossing it a little beyond, and keep it well in sight until Elora station is reached. This is the present terminus of the road, 75 miles from Toronto, and the distance was made in five hours.

ELORA AND ITS SURROUNDINGS.
The village is situated at the confluence of the Grand and Irvine rivers, and to the student of nature or the lover of romantic scenery it is one of the Meccas of Ontario. It is a link in a chain of five villages stretching along the banks of the two rivers—Fergus, Kinsettles, Abozne, Elora, and Salem—and some time in the not distant future, when the country has freed itself from the Anacanda folds of the N. P., and trade and industry have revived under the operation of laissez faire and equal rights, the five villages may unite to form one prosperous city. The locality has unrivalled water-power for several miles along the Grand River, but one has only to point to the idle carpet factory and the sewing machine factory—both very large establishments—as proof of how far short of its promise Sir Leonard Tilley's policy has fallen. Both carpets and sewing machines are enormously protected; yet here are two large establishments, with all their machinery complete, rusting out and rotting out for lack of any one with confidence enough in the N. P. to set them in operation.

But the natural scenery of Elora is for the present more inviting than its industrial capabilities. The town stands on a high ridge of magnesian limestone, known geologically as the Guelph Formation, and is 1,100 feet above the level of Lake Ontario. Long ages ago the Grand and Irvine rivers flowed in shallow channels over a limestone bed, and joining their waters swept down to a sault or cataract two and a half miles below. Gradually the rock was worn away by the same process which we yet see in operation at Niagara Falls, cutting a gorge that ranges from a few feet to a hundred feet deep and two hundred to three hundred feet wide. Reaching back to the "forks," it must for a time have closely resembled the horse-shoe falls of the Niagara, being semi-circular in outline; and as the afternoon sun shone full upon the thin sheet of falling water and the ascending clouds of spray, the whole scene, with its woodland setting, must have been of surpassing grandeur and beauty. But slowly the face of the picture was changed, and instead of one waterfall there were two. The Irvine cut its narrower gorge backward a distance of two miles, across the whole breadth of the ridge, and so its cataract was ended. Sometimes we read of extinct volcanoes; here is an extinct waterfall, and men tread its grave in vain to read its story, saving as the testimony of the rocks reveals it. The gorge of the Grand River has been cut back a lesser depth for about three miles, but the rock through which it flows would appear to be of harder texture, for at point some three hundred yards above the "forks" the river has an almost perpendicular fall of forty feet.

There are no data to compute the age of this gorge, or approximately. Its origin is doubtless later than that of the Niagara one, since the Guelph formation overlies the Niagara. It is safe to conjecture, however, that no child of the race of Adam witnessed the horse-shoe form of the cascade.

I was fortunate in having as guides to the wonderland three sons of the Ontario Legislature, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, whose mind is a storehouse of literary and scientific knowledge; Mr. Boyle, Principal of the Public School, who is thoroughly conversant with the geology of the locality, and a zealous collector of its rocks and fossil remains; and Mr. Macpherson, a teacher of the H. School, and one of the best botanists in the country. We explored the gorge from the level bridge on the Irvine down to the Holt level bridge on the Grand; drinking of the p

Webster in his embarrassment can do so by sending whatever they feel disposed to give either to Rev. Charles E. Perry, at Poustanguishene, or to his colleague, Rev. J. R. Real, Midland. A few years ago Bro. Webster was burned out and lost all his property, which makes it all the more necessary to render him some assistance now."

RAILWAY COLLISION

A BAD SMASH UP AT BELTON.

Belton station on the H. & N. W. was the scene of a serious collision on Thursday night last at about five o'clock, which demolished the depot, injured several people and smashed the two trains in a terrible fashion. The trains were two mixed freights, one going to Collingwood and the other coming from Barrie. About thirteen cars loaded with freight were completely smashed and one engine. The other was slightly damaged. The operator, Mr. Kennedy, and a young lady, a school teacher, Miss Whitesides, whose parents reside at Elm Grove, township of Essa, received serious injury. Miss Whitesides was waiting in the junction station for the Barrie train to take her to Barrie, and Kennedy ran in to help her out, when one of the cars ran over the station, smashing it into splinters. The young lady's head was severely bruised and her body badly injured. The operator had his neck badly injured and a quantity of vitriol put of the battery got into his eyes. The engine driver, Thorne and fireman Hutchinson of the Collingwood train had both their ankles hurt, but escaped otherwise. One of the cars contained the racer King George, and two boys who were on their way to Alliston to take part in the fall meeting there. The horse escaped, but one of the boys had his ankle sprained. An investigation is in progress to determine the responsibility for the accident.

dismissal. And the Liberal faith, proved himself sound in the Liberal faith, so far as he knew it. The Messrs. Hughes, of Toronto, large wholesale men, have many smart business men in their employ, some of whom are Conservatives. It so happened that in the late Beatty-Ryan election one of these gentlemen was an active the former, and did yeoman his party candidate in the poll in which Mr. H. H. was bat- Ryan. All right again. But the East Simcoe Liberal acts ofent of his man, and the loss of dollar bet. The great Res himself to the Messrs. Hughes, or the discharge of the gentle- opposed him in manly political doubting for a moment Reform and Toronto were identical. rs. Hughes declined Mr. Cook's stating that their employees had ol over their own actions when off duty: thus I infer the Messrs. Hughes are not sound in the Liberal faith. Here again is another argument for a convention of the party to decide upon a platform of principles: for if the great light of East Simcoe is wrong—who is there left, in the once proud Reform party, that can decide TRAVELLER.

THE ELECTRIC FLUID.—A man living out in the western part of Essa had a mare and colt killed by lightning during a thunder storm. Both were out in the field under the shade of a tree and were reduced almost to ashes.

THE PIC-NIC held under the auspices of the Presbyterian S. School recently was quite a success. Various kinds of amusements were provided for the occasion and the children as well as the older people had a very enjoyable time.

HARVEST.—The harvest is all but over and the returns of those who have threshed are very satisfactory. On the whole there will be more than an average yield, especially of fall wheat and barley, but spring wheat is not so good.

WEATHER.—During the past week there has been a complete change in the weather which for the previous month was very fine. Vast quantities of rain have fallen and retarded very much those who were getting ready for sowing fall wheat.

A SCRAPLER has for some time busied himself sending items to one of your local contents. He never misses an opportunity to give a side thrust at the Warden, and often manufactures both opportunity and news. The cheese business was his last.

A LETTER FROM A CLERGYMAN

VERNONVILLE, Sept. 8th, 1876.

Messrs. Milburn & Co.,

GENTLEMEN.—Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has cured the worst case of summer complaint I ever knew. Our little child was, for one month, not expected to recover. We got medicine from our family physician, but like everything else, it failed, until we tried Dr. Fowler's Great Cure—Extract of Wild Strawberry, which acted like a charm, and perfectly cured the infant in less than three days.

Yours faithfully,

REV. S. R. KEARNS.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. ISMAN, Station D, New York City.

REAPER and Mower manufacturers say "Castorine" is the best oil in the market being entirely free from gum and having great wearing body.

FOR dysentery, diarrhea, and all summer complaints, use the greatest of all pure, simple remedies—Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is pleasant, rapid, reliable and effective. For sale by all dealers. MILBURN & Co., Proprietors.

THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS

How often have we longed for perfect enjoyment and how seldom found it. Misfortune has come, or ill health overtaken. Perhaps a cough has come upon us which threatens that dreaded of all diseases, consumption, and we feel that death is near. With what joy should we be filled the when such a remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is placed within our reach. It has cured thousands who were near the grave than ourselves and made the lives peaceful and happy. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Loss of voice, difficulty breathing, or any affection of the Throat, Lungs are positively cured by this Wonderful Discovery. Now to give you satisfactory proof that Dr. King's New Discovery will cure if you will call at W. C. McLean's Drug Store you can get a trial bottle for ten cents or regular size bottle for $1.00.

THE RIFLE.

37th Battalion Match.

The second annual shooting match of Nos.
8 and 7 companies, 37th battalion, came off at their ranges on Friday last, the 22nd inst.
On account of the unpropitious state of the weather the attendance was small and the shooting poor. At the 200 yards range there were 14 entries, and the shooting was very fair—the highest points being 17 out of a possible 20, which were made by S. B. Weylie, who was awarded 1st prize, and W. H. Barber, who received 2nd prize. The other prizes were as follows: 3rd, Capt. W. T. Sawle; 4th,
W. Glenn; 5th, M. T. Glenn; 6th, Sergeant
Marr (the last three prizes being equal); 7th,
T. Rennels; 8th, Corp. Wickott; 9th, Sergt.
Campbell; 10th, Sergt. Sayright and T.
Smith (equal). In the second match, 400 yards, the 1st prize was won by T. Rennels;
2nd, S. B. Weylie; 3rd, M. T. Glenn; 4th,
J. Lawson; 5th, Geo. Wickott; 6th, Sergt.
Sayright; 7th, W. H. Barber; 8th, Sergt.
Marr; 9th, Capt. Sawle. The wind was very high and blew across the range in fitful gusts
and varying directions, so that it was almost impossible to know what allowance to make for windage. It rained so incessantly all the afternoon that the third match had to be postponed.

NOTES.

The Chicago Jockey and Trotting Club
track, sold yesterday morning under a foreclosure, was bought by A. W. Richmond,
owner of Hopeful, and son of Dean Richmond,
of New York, for $29,500. Richmond will manage the track himself.

DISASTROUS FLOODS.

Injury to Property and Loss of Life.

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 9.—There has been great inundations in the Santa Catharine colonies,
caused by the overflow of the river Itajaby.
The loss of property is immense. Hundreds of houses, many mills and all the bridges
were destroyed, and all the crops carried away. Great distress prevails among the colonists. A few lives have been lost.

probably fallen asleep, and the wagon, which dropped into a deep rut, unbalanced him.
He was at once picked up by two young men passing and his wounds attended to. These consisted of a deep cut on the forehead, which bled profusely, and several minor hurts. Mr.
Breen had a narrow escape, as the wheels
passed within a few inches of his head.

A serious case has engaged the County Court Judge for the last day and a half, being an application to remove Geo. Bawden, a furniture dealer, from the guardianship of his infant sister on the ground of improper conduct towards her. The application was granted and a new guardian appointed.

A span of horses was stolen from the stables

were traced to a mile south of Lucan, where

Trial of an Engine Driver for Negligence
BARRIE, Oct. 27.—At the Barrie Assizes, Robt. Metcalf, engine driver, was indicted for criminal negligence in causing an accident at Boston Junction, on the H. & N. W. Railway.
After deliberating for two hours, the jury
acquitted the prisoner, and the Judge in discharging him stated that he had a narrow escape from conviction owing to the jury taking a favorable view of his case. He warned him that in his position he had a great responsibility, having a large amount of property and often many valuable lives in his care, and it was essential that he should strictly adhere to the rules of the company.
He also hoped that his case would be a warning to him and others in managing their trains. The Judge then certified on the indictment that this was a case in which it was reasonable and proper to have preferred an indictment against Robt. Metcalf.

TORONTO.

Dedication—Cattle Trade with England—
Court of Revision—The Agricultural Commission.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—The festival of the dedication of Holy Trinity Church commenced
this morning at 7 o'clock, the celebrant
being Rev. J. Knox Little of St. Albans, Manchester, England. There was a very large congregation present. There were eighty communicants, including a number of clergy.
After the creed the Rev. Mr. Little delivered a short address on the subject of the sacrament. The church is beautifully decorated.
There was a full choral celebration at 11 o'clock which was very impressive. Other services will be held during the day. The festival is attracting a great deal of notice.

The prospects of the cattle trade with England are looking up again. A dispatch has been received which contains the announcement that the best grade of cattle have gone up two pounds sterling per head, and other grades in proportion.

The Court of Revision commenced their labors this morning with over 900 assas-ment appeals to dispose of.

The Agricultural Commission will finish their labors to-day. It is claimed that the prisoner was flushed and uneasy. It is said the prosecution have a large amount of the prisoner's handwriting in their possession

which bears heavily against him.

Judge Davis, on the charge coming before him, said that while it was not necessary to read the affidavits, he would not restrain the District Attorney from reading them. Mr.
Bell then began reading the affidavits of Geo.
Bliss, when the counsel for the defendant
again objected, saying it was only for the Judge to decide whether he would hold the prisoner. Judge Davis thought the counsel would be embarrassed to find authorities to support their objection to the reading of the affidavits. Crooks, one of Philip's counsel, moved that the District Attorney be not allowed to read ex parte affidavits. Davis over-ruled the motion, and exception was taken. Bell then read the affidavit of Geo.
Bliss. It set forth the publication in a paper called Truth, of the alleged letter of General Garfield to Morey, and the publication in that paper on October 22nd of an editorial headed "Lying and Sticking to It,"
in which General Garfield was repeatedly called "liar." Bliss swears that he is acquainted with General Garfield's writing, and that he believes his Morey letter was written and forged by Kenward Philp. Mr. Bell then said: "I hold in my hand the original manuscript of the editorial referred to,
headed 'Lying and Sticking to It.'"

The affidavit of Bliss went on to say that he believed the publisher and manager of Truth arranged with the Democratic National Committee to circulate a large number of copies of the forged letter. Bell
then said he had affidavits of gentlemen who were acknowledged to be experts in handwriting. (Counsel for the defendant—
"We deny that.") He read affidavits of J.
E. Payne and of Southworth, setting forth that Morey's letter was not, in their belief,
written by Gen. Garfield, and that the letter was written by Philp, who wrote the editorial
article referred to. They had also, in framing their opinion, seen his handwriting on bills and other papers.

A motion was then made to have the warrant dismissed on the ground that the affidavits were not strong enough to support it.
The motion was denied by Judge Davis, who held that the publication of the article after its authenticity was denied, tended to bring odium on the supposed author, and was a criminal libel. The examination was adjourned until 7 o'clock to-morrow morning.
The prisoner furnishes $5,000 bail to appear.
Gen. Pryor demanded a speedy trial, and as the crowd were leaving the Court room three cheers were given for Hancock. The one who started the cry could not be caught, though Judge Davis ordered his arrest.

Wednesday as the special train for the north, on the Hamilton & Northwestern Railway, headed by the engine J. M. Williams and driven by engineer Williams, had passed the village of Beeton, one of the dies collapsed and the contents of the boiler rushing out through the firebox, before which Mr. Williams happened to be standing, and enveloped him in a cloud of scalding steam, which completely tore the skin from parts of his face, hands and breast, while other parts of his body were very badly burned. The firemen happened to be at the far end of the cab, and escaped with comparatively slight injuries. The train came to a standstill, and the injured man was carried to the village, enduring agony, that can be more easily imagined than described. He now lies in a very precarious condition, wrapped in oil and soft cotton batting.

A CAUTION ABOUT SHOT IN GAME.—It may be worth while to caution those who are fortunate enough to dine off wild ducks, partridges and other game delicacies that the proportion of instances in which shot is found is probably small in comparison with the number of cases in which the pellets are unwittingly swallowed. It is a matter of speculation how much mischief a shot may do when passed into the intestines, but the fact that anomalous diseases have been set up by the presence of very small bodies which have become entangled in folds of the mucous membrane renders it desirable to put the public on their guard. Occasionally the most disastrous results have followed such small causes.

THE TANNER CHICKEN.—He was going up street the other evening carrying a dressed chicken by the legs. The bird was really a chicken, you know, though a good many people who caught a glimpse of it as the chap ambled along, were in doubt as to whether there was anything there but the frame work of a fowl. Just as the man was passing an uptown tin store, he was accosted by the owner with: "Say, Mister! This is the place. Right in here." "What place are you talking about?" queried the other as he drew up. "Why, the tin shop" was the reply—"place where they buy bones!" "Thought you were looking for it. But it's all right," he added, as he saw the face of the Tanner chicken owner darken. "If I've made a mistake, I apologize. Don't get mad about it, my dear sir. Everybody makes a mistake now and then. Goin' to be a nice night, eh? Good evening. Ta-ta!" And he went into his shop and shut the door, laughing softly all the while, at his little joke; while the man with the shadowy fowl shuffled ahead, perhaps meditating murder and arson and various other things, in return for the injury done his finer feelings.

THE MYERS' MATTER.—Mr. Myers and Mrs. Chilver arrived at Orillia from Almer, in search of the missing Nettie, but she had got out of the way before their arrival. A couple of days after, however, she turned up, and a lawyer was employed to perfect an arrangement between the husband and wife under the conditions of which she would return with Mr. Myers. She is said to have a leaning towards a young man who lives in Orillia whom Mr. Myers cautioned never to be seen in his wife's company again or he would make him bite the dust. The young man felt so uncomfortable in the presence of the jilted husband as to fairly shake with fear. The Orillia Times, which supplies the above facts, thinks that perhaps the best thing Mr. Myers could do would be to give up the

He mentions in his letter that the Government saw and grist mills in course of erection near him are being built under the supervision of "our old friend John Kean, who is doing well."

—At a charity Concert in Stratford the other evening, Mr. Clayton, late of Barrie, was one of the singers. The Herald says of him: "Mr Clayton, opened the second part of the programme with Moore's ever welcome 'Harp that once.' Dr. Wallace, of the Turkish Bath institution, joint complaint of Mrs. Sherry and Stephen

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Hanlan has been inundated with congratulatory telegrams. Among them are dispatches from the Marquis of Lorne, the Mayor of Toronto, Colonel Shaw,
the American Consul at Manchester, Government Packard, the American Consul-General
at Liverpool, and many Canadians.

THE "SPORTSMAN."

The Sportsman thus explains Trickett's defeat: We believe firstly, that Hanlan is far superior as a sculler to Trickett; and secondly, we do not think Trickett was as well as could be hoped weeks ago, when he made the trip to the Isle of Wight and France; he was overtrained; he had worked himself to a pitch of muscular tension which nature refused to sustain long, and relaxation ensued.
Probably he was suffering one of those relapses yesterday. It must also be remembered that Trickett was suffering from bronchial affection; but we do not hesitate to say that he would never beat Hanlan, even if in the best of health. With regard to Hanlan, probably many years will elapse before such a perfect sculler will appear again. Homer and Smith had useful spins yesterday. Either oarsman did not practice on account of the championship race.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONTEST.

Hanlan stated to-night that unless illness prevented he would certainly participate in the international regatta.

RECEPTION OF THE NEWS.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—An influential meeting
was held this evening at McGuire's restaurant, to consider the question of giving Hanlan
a public reception on his arrival from England. The proceedings were of a most enthusiastic character. A committee was appointed to wait on the Mayor and see whether the Council Chamber could be got for the purpose of holding a public meeting therein
to discuss the reception question.

CLIFTON, Nov. 15.—As early as 5.30 this morning crowds gathered around the office of the Dominion Telegraph Co. to learn the result of the race, and on receipt of the welcome news gave vent to their feelings by one continuous cheer. Flags went up on the principal buildings in honor of the champion's victory, and the town presents a gala day appearance.

OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—Hanlan's victory was received with the greatest enthusiasm. At an early hour the streets were crowded with citizens eager to learn the result. This evening a grand bonfire will illuminate Lower
Town in honor of the event.

CORNWALL, Nov. 15.—Hanlan's victory is being celebrated here this evening by huge bonfires, and great rejoicing.

NAPANEE, Nov. 15.—The news of Hanlan's
victory was the general topic of conversation
during the day. The reports giving particulars of the race were eagerly scanned by the crowd as they appeared on the bulletin board.
The flag was raised on the Town Hall.

GUELPH, Nov. 15.—The news of Hanlan's success caused no surprise here, but was received with enthusiasm. About $3,000 was cabled on Hanlan from here on Saturday.
Flags are flying on the City Hall and on several private buildings.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 15.—Flags are flying on the principal building in this city in honor of Hanlan's victory.

ST. CATHARINES, Nov. 15.—The news of much rejoicing, large crowds gathering around this tale—or rather tail—to us. Now, we see nothing remarkably strange in it. The milk was there, the cat wanted a drink, it had a long tail, and like any sensible cat it put its tail to good use. You wouldn't surely expect the cat to request somebody to come and feed it out of the jug with a spoon, would you? You don't imagine the animal would try to climb right into the jug, or essay to bore a hole in it, when its tail was so accommodating! But suppose the cat had no tail! Or, suppose there was no

milk in the jug! BARRIE
On Monday of last week as the special train for the north, on the Hamilton & Northwestern Railway, headed by the engine J. M. Williams, and driven by engineer Williams, had passed the village of Beeton, one of the flues collapsed and the contents of the boiler rushed out
through the fire-box, before which Mr.
Williams happened to be standing, and enveloped him in a cloud of scalding steam,
which completely tore the skin from parts
of his face, hands and breast, while other parts of his body were very badly burned.
The fireman happened to be at the far end of the cab, and escaped with comparatively slight injuries. The train came to a standstill, and the injured man was carried to the village, enduring agony that can more easily be imagined than described.
STORIES about the qualifications of the average Mowat J. P. still being in order, here is another contribution to the number-
which comes from a prominent resident of the vicinity referred to:—In a certain village not a thousand miles away from Stay-ner, justice is dispensed by a magistrate who owes his high honors to Mr. Mowat, and who justifies the wisdom of his appointment as only a magistrate of Mr. Mowat's creation can. The other day a case of assault and battery was heard by him.
The evidence concluded, the magistrate
scratched his head thoughtfully, gave a final squint at the page of the statute therein made and provided, and then gravely
said:—"The battery is made out clearly against the defendant, and I shall fine him $1 and costs for it. As to the assault, the parties can settle that between themselves!"
THE market in Bradford is coming along nicely—the sufferer is doing as well as could be expected, as the proverbial "serious accident" item runs. But yet, according to one of the papers, "it needs fostering care," "it must be held up and carried along," "it must begin with a regular boom," and so forth and so on. Perhaps a little of that naive the Reform paper devotes leading articles to might help to get the market fairly on its legs, and see it safely through a very trying ordeal which it cannot escape unless the grain buyers
