Gibson and Awrey are respectable citizens, and Messrs. Awrey and Gibson are Grit members of the Local legislature.

New fire blankets are being introduced in Buffalo, and the whole fire department will soon be supplied with them. They are made of canvas, and are about twelve feet square. The edges are bound with heavy rope and holes are made for five or six persons to hold it on each side. They are to be used for saving people who may be obliged to leap from burning buildings.

LOCAL ITEMS.

There was a large and fashionable gathering yesterday forenoon at St. James' Square Presbyterian church, Toronto, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Laura Mowat, second daughter of Hon. O. Mowat, and Mr.
Thomas Langton, barrister, Toronto. The guests assembled at the church at 11 o'clock.
Among those present were noticed the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Robinson, accompanied by Captain Gamble, G.D.C., Hon.
Edward Blake and Mrs. Blake, Hon.
Alex. Mackenzie and Mrs. Mackenzie, Sir Wm. and Lady Howland, Prof. Wilson and Miss Wilson, Miss Maclellan, Major Greig, Mrs. Greig and Miss Greig, Hon. A. S. Hardy and Miss Hardy, Hon. Mr. Pardee, Rev. J.

Bro. Wilson replied in fitting terms to the toast, which was suitably received. Bro.
Wilson's speech was witty and to the point. He had no sympathy with those people who talked of independence or annexation. "The Orange order is a truly loyal body, and should any of those who favor independence or annexation ever endeavor to put their ideas into practical effect, the speaker was of opinion that there would be found in the Orangemen of Canada the nucleus of a force which would have the majority of the people of Canada at its back, and which would soon wipe the innovators out.

Bro. Harper made a first rate speech in response to the toast of The Sister Societies.
He gave some encouraging figures showing the order in Hamilton. He

METHODIST MISSIONARY MEETING.

A Large and Interested Audience at Zion Tabernacle.

A largely attended missionary meeting was held last evening in Zion Tabernacle in aid of the Methodist missions in different parts of the world. The clergymen present were Rev. Mr. Wakefield, in the chair, Rev.
Messrs. Coleman, Crossley, Scott, Odey, Crosby and Philp. After some singing by the choir, Rev. Mr. Odey was introduced, and said that he was glad to be present and identified with the grand work of missions to the heathen. Giving to the missionaries is not sufficient, he said, prayer is necessary, and prayer is the secret of the success of all the missions that have been preached. No matter where the gospel is preached it was souls to Christ. Millions of money have been spent in missions to the benighted inhabitants of Africa, Asia, India and elsewhere, but the money is well spent.
The ability of the people of the present age to help these missions is far greater than it was in former ages, therefore they are expected to do more, as every man should give according to his means. There is a glorious opportunity before them now, and they should take advantage of it. It is a glorious thing to save souls. One converted soul may convert thousands. Whitfield had but one soul, it was saved, and how many did he convert?
There is no greater incentive to a holy life than to be interested in the missionary work.
There is a glorious field before them in the Northwest, where thousands of souls are waiting to be saved. In conclusion he exhorted those present to give of their abundant to the missionary work, and took his seat amid applause.

Rev. Mr. Crosby, of British Columbia, was then called upon and expressed his pleasure in having the privilege of addressing them.
He continued in a glowing description of his missionary life in British Columbia. He described the peculiarities of the different Indian languages in the Northwest, with the customs of the people and the difficulties which a missionary encounters in his preaching to the heathen. He described a meal that a chief's wife prepared for him and his companions, which was so amusing that the audience were kept in a roar of laughter during the course of the description.
He referred to the work that had been done during the past eight years. Numerous churches, meeting houses and schools have been built, and in most cases converted the directors are bestowing much personal attention upon it.

Quite a number of additional shareholders are on the list. It is quite manifest that the people appreciate the institution, to judge by the numbers who avail themselves of it.

NEW STATION.—The new station house of the H. and N. W. railway is now completed.
It presents a very neat and handsome appearance, and is creditable alike to the company as well as to the village of Hagersville.
It is undoubtedly one of the largest and most comfortable station-houses along the line, which is an evidence of the fact that the company considers the Hagersville station to be one of their most important ones.—Sachem.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY MEETING.—Yesterday afternoon, according to announcement, a women's missionary meeting was held in the parlors of the Centenary Methodist church.
There was a very large attendance. Mrs.
Crosby, the clever and devoted wife of the missionary at Fort Simpson, B. C., addressed the ladies and gave a very interesting account of the working of the girls' home at Fort Simpson. Much interest was manifested by those present, and no doubt the result will be of considerable financial benefit to the missionary cause.

THE CLAN CAMPBELL.—Signatures to the address from the members of the Clan Campbell of Canada, which is to be presented to the Marquis of Lorne on his return to Canada, are being made rapidly. All members of the Campbell family in the city or county will have an opportunity of signing the address up to Saturday night next and no longer, as the roll has to be returned to Ottawa on Monday. A sheet for signatures has been left at the business office of the Spectator. His Excellency is expected in Ottawa on the 15th, but it is not definitely settled when the roll is to be presented to him.

PRESENTATION.—View of the departure of Mr. Wm. Bateman from the Northwest, a number of his Oddfellows have made him an appropriate present in the form of an elegantly constructed and well filled case of atomized meats. The case is in the shape of a music roll, and is made of seamless tissue, which is said to be extremely durable.
Mr. Bateman will find his present convenient should he happen to be wandering about the prairie about dinner time. Mr. C. Karner made the presentation, and suitable speeches and refreshments were had on the occasion.

Queen's college, Kingston, uncle of the bride.
The newly-wedded pair were then congratulated by their friends. The wedding party were afterwards driven to Mr. Mowat's house on Simcoe street, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was partaken of. Suitable speeches were made by some of the guests present.
The happy couple departed for the Southern States.

NOTICES.

We would direct the attention of smokers to an advertisement in this issue which is worthy of their notice.

THE HAMILTON ASSOCIATION.—The discovery of Burlington bay, with some account of the Aborigines of the Province of Ontario and State of New York, is the subject of the paper to be read at the meeting of this society, in the city hall this evening. Mr. B. E. Char-ton is thoroughly conversant with the subject on which he writes, and an interesting and instructive paper may be expected.

UNION MUTUAL INSURANCE CO.—Mr. Edwin Wilke, long and favorably known in the insurance business through this district, has secured the agency for Hamilton and surrounding country of the Union Mutual Life Insurance company of Maine. The advantage which this company offers above most, if not all others, by its rigid adherence to the Maine non-forfeiture law, is that of giving or selling a number of years' life insurance for about the ordinary amount of premium (within a few cents) charged by other companies. If the premium on a policy issued by this company is not kept continually paid up, the claim of the holder is not forfeited, as in other companies. For instance: A is insured for $1,000. He pays his premium for three years, and pays no more. Should he die at any time within seven years of the date of his policy his heirs will receive the full amount of his claim.

"By reason of a severely sprained ankle, one of my horses began to go very lame," writes Mr. R. Arnold, 219 Meeting street, Charlestown, S. C. "A thorough application of St. Jacobs Oil entirely cured the horse.
I heartily endorse it as an excellent remedy for lameness." Every one should use it.

POLITENESS.—The mind consists in thinking cheerful and kind thoughts. Stylish hats are worn at 8 King street east.

cultivated voice, and a most viva-are said to be marvel in their way. Among the remainder of the company are many well-known artists."

FEARFUL ACCIDENT.

A Workman Caught in a Shaft.

Yesterday a fearful accident occurred at the rolling mills here, whereby a workman named Fox, living on Locomotive street north, suffered serious injury. His escape from death was a matter of great wonder.
Mr. Fox was working at a revolving shaft, when in some manner he was caught by the whirling rod, carried around swiftly, and dropped on some boards placed just below the shaft on a sort of platform. He was taken home in a cab, and Dr. Miller attended him.
To the astonishment of all who saw the accident, Mr. Fox escaped without having any bones broken, so far as can yet be discovered.
His back is badly injured, and his body very much bruised.

PERSONAL.

Gen. Edward Newton, of Newport, R.I., one of the leading Democrats of the State, fell down stairs Monday, and died yesterday, aged 70.

James McDonald, commercial traveler for Henry Chapman & Co., Montreal, died suddenly of heart disease, on Tuesday night, at the Royal hotel, St. John, N. B.

Henry Ward Beecher has reaffirmed his denial that "there is to be an eternity of conscious torment where all hope of rescue is gone."

Thomas Garland, late of Caledonia, is not dead. It was another Garland who died at Portage la Prairie.

Dr. Mary Walker says that she is not in favor of hanging Guineau. She will spend the winter in Washington.

Mrs. Rossetti is one of the most aesthetic English women. She is tall and slender and languid, and her reddish hair is very much frizzed over her brow after the manner of the typical dandy. Her head appears in many of the pictures painted by the artist members of the clan of Aesthetes.

Judah P. Benjamin, ex-Confederate, who has an enormous income from the law practice in London, spends the greater part of it upon his wife, whose incommunicability of temper keeps her in Paris, where she lives in magnificent fashion. Mr. Benjamin is the most frugal of men in all that concerns himself, but he gives a great deal in charity.

King Humbert with his fair wife and little son made Christmas as bright a holiday in the palace as it was in any comfortable bourgeois home. Not even the humblest attendant was forgotten when the presents were distributed, and all the children of those attached to the palace received gifts from the small Prince of Naples. The King, who went hunting shortly before the holidays, sent to his friends presents of the game killed by his own hands.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Facts and Fun for Everybody.
—Thursday night's storm smashed two windows in the tower of the court house.
—Many trees and fences were blown down in Ancaster during Thursday night's storm.
—When the jury astonished him with the verdict, Guiteau is said to have exclaimed: "Well, I'll be hanged!"
—The water in the river, or creek, at Dundas, was higher yesterday morning than it has been for years.
—Prof. Gant says there is only one street car in London, and it is so small that the driver has to run alongside the horse.
—The appearance of the Ayr Recorder seems to indicate that an editor as well as a chameleon can make a good living on Ayr.
—It must have been a bold, bad temperance man who went around to the Shades saloon sign the other night and painted out the S in Shades.
—The Thorold Post published a joke last week, and this week the editor, over his own name, and in leaded type, apologizes for the unusual occurrence.
—Halton News: The Hamilton police have placed on exhibition in that city the hats of M. Bourke and Pat Maher. They might make money by taking an exhibition tour through Halton.
—This week's Waterloo Chronicle is a special number, entirely devoted to letterpress and pictorial description of the town. The paper is nicely gotten up, and shows that Waterloo is prosperous, despite the tax on coal.

LOCAL ITEMS.

WIRES DOWN.—The New York wires are down to-day, a fact which will account for the meanness of the American and cable news to-day.
NOT THE MAN.—The Geo. Mills mentioned in yesterday's police court report for refusing to pay cab hire is not Geo. A. Mills, hatter, Market square.
READY TO GO OUT.—The pumps and engines manufactured by J. H. Killey & Co. for the London waterworks, will be ready for shipment on Monday next.
NINTH DIVISION COURT.—The sittings of the Ninth Division court are being held at the court house before his Honor Judge Sinclair. There are only three cases of extended jurisdiction for sums over $100.

It was arranged by counsel that the two motions should be argued together on Friday next.

THE NEW WATERWORKS PUMPS.—The work of putting in the first of the new waterworks pumps will probably begin the first week in February. Due notice will be given of the exact date. The contractors have forty hours in which to make a temporary change. This change will give but one pump to keep up the supply for the city, and this arrangement will continue for perhaps thirty days, during which the contractors will be working night and day at No. 2 pump. It will be necessary for the citizens during this time to exercise the utmost economy in the use of water, as one pump is not sufficient to keep up the full the speaker with a low forehead. Mr. Thompson was greeted with loud applause. He is a good lecturer in general, being heard distinctly all over the hall. He has been in Ireland for a considerable time past, returning about a month ago. He is well posted in all the points of the Land League question. He said that when he went to Ireland as a correspondent of the Globe he did not know that his views would be so acceptable in Ireland. He did his best to act on the facts on the land question, and thought he had succeeded as far as possible, and as a result believes that Ireland was never in a more hopeful condition than she is at present. He did not intend to go into the particulars of the people in the southern part of Ireland.

the funds to other educational the committee of the council of Elgin respecting the dispensing with the second selection of jurors by county officers Mr. Allison in the chair.

Mr. McKeechie objected to the present system as incurring unnecessary expense and inflicting great inconvenience on many leading men in the county who were called on frequently to serve on juries.

Mr. Stock was not sure that any amendment in the law would work an improvement. He was not opposing a change, but he could not recommend any plan which would work better.

Mr. Jardine—What time is usually occupied in the second selection?
Mr. Stock—From seven to ten days.

Mr. Jardine—At $4 a day.
Mr. Stock proceeded to explain the present system and manner of selecting jurors, and thought it a very good one.

Mr. Sexton said he concurred in the views expressed by Mr. Rose in the House as to the propriety of a change. He thought the system of raising cattle, and that the second selection was not proper and incurred costs which were unnecessary. The abolition of the second selection would not lower the standard of juries. A ballot taken from the returns made by the township selections would be far more satisfactory than the present system. As to the difficulty of local selections, not knowing who were exempt on account of having served before, it could be got over by the clerk sending to the township selectors the names of those who were so exempt.

Mr. Peebles fully agreed with Mr. Sexton. The first selection by the reeve, the assessor and the clerk of each municipality was as good as could be had and if a ballot were taken from these for the number actually required it would be quite as satisfactory as at present and less expensive.

Mr. McKeechie said that there was room for a great reform in this question both as to expense and the frequency that some individuals were called upon to serve on juries.

Moved by Dr. Russell, seconded by Mr. Smith, that the resolution passed by the county council of the county of Elgin and the circular from Mr. Ross, treasurer of the county of Huron, respecting the second selection of jurors, be concurred in by this council, and that the warden is hereby instructed by this council to petition the Ontario Legislature to make the change proposed.

Dr. Russell said that on the ground of economy and efficiency there was room for change. There might, it was true, be room for a little favoritism by the local officials, yet the advantages which could be obtained from a change would lead him to vote for it.

Mr. Stock objected to Dr. Russell's insinuation that the local officials were more liable to corruption than the county judge or the present board of second selection.

Dr. Russell's motion was carried in committee and confirmed by council.

Mr. Jardine submitted the report of the commissioners on the Grimsby and Saltfleet macadamized road, saying that no work having been done on said road, the contractor having failed to carry out his contract, new tenders had been advertised, for and the committee recommended that the offer of A. E. Carpenter to complete the same at $2.75 per rod be accepted, the work to commence as early as the season will permit, and be completed by the 15th day of August, 1882.

The report was adopted.

Moved by Mr. Calder, seconded by W. D. Binkley, that a special committee, consisting of the Warden, Mr. Stock and the mover be appointed to procure information respecting houses of industry and refuge, or other institutions for the maintenance of the poor in those counties within the Province of Ontario where such have been established, such information to include the following particulars: The cost, kind and dimensions of the buildings, the quantity of land attached, the number of inmates for whom accommodation is provided, and the average daily or weekly cost per head of maintaining them, together with such other information as may be obtained and which the committee shall deem requisite to enable this council to determine the expediency or otherwise of establishing such an institution for the county of Wentworth, the committee to report to this council at its next regular meeting; and that the committee may, if they deem it necessary, visit one or more of such institutions now existing in this Province. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Lawry, seconded by Mr. Stipe, that the sum of ten dollars be granted from the funds of this municipality as a subscription to the prize list of the Ontario life association. Carried.

Council adjourned at 12.15 till 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

Council resumed at 2.25.

The Warden read an account from C. W. Mulligan of $84.40. The account was referred to the joint committee on jail and court house.

Council went into committee of the whole on the resolution of the county of Elgin respecting accounts for the administration of justice, Mr. Kennedy in the chair.

Moved by Mr. W. D. Binkley seconded by Mr. Ferguson that whereas loss has resulted

THE SQUIRE COMMISSION.—Judgment was given yesterday by Chief Justice Wilson, in re Squire, and which was an application for an order of prohibition to restrain a commission from enquiring into certain charges against the county judge of the county of Huron. The commission was appointed by the Ontario Government. Before Confederation there was a Court of Impeachment formed of the three Chief Justices of Ontario before which all charges brought against puisne judges were to be enquired into. After Confederation the Legislature of Ontario passed an act abolishing this court and establishing the examination by commission. The learned Chief Justice gave a lengthy judgment, citing numerous authorities, and said that he had no doubt himself that the commission was invalid, but he would not order a prohibition until the parties had acted, as the Government might withdraw the commission, though if asked to order the prohibition he could not fail to grant it. This judgment raises the question as to the constitutionality of the act of the Ontario Legislature.

A REMARKABLE DOG.—The baggage man at the H. & N. W. railway depot had a remarkable dog tied up in his office yesterday. The day before a gentleman came along having a medium sized white dog, partly of bull dog breed, in his company. The gentleman boarded the accommodation train going south and left the dog behind on the platform. But it was by no means the kind of dog that gets left, and the animal started up the mountain after that train at a rattling pace, which brought it into Caledonia, after a seventeen mile race, about two hundred yards ahead of the train. The dog and his master were reunited and stayed at Caledonia during the night, when the gentleman boarded the passenger train to return to this city yesterday. Again the dog was left behind, and again the faithful animal started after its master, who was on board the train, and arrived in the city a little less than half an hour after its master, covered with mud and glory, only to lose its owner after all. The baggage man recognized the dog, took it in, rubbed it down with a comforting liquid, and if its owner does not call for it proposes to train the dog for a long distance runner to beat the messenger from Jarvis Station.

The circulation of the DAILY SPECTATOR is about double that of any other daily paper published in Hamilton.
The circulation, in the city, of the Evening Edition alone of the SPECTATOR is greater than the circulation, in the city, of any other daily paper.
The circulation of the WEEKLY SPECTATOR is about three times as large as that of any other weekly newspaper published in Hamilton.
We have offered to submit these statements to any printer and hold the offer open for a comparison of circulations with any rival which may desire it.

TWO EDITIONS DAILY.

THE MORNING SPECTATOR

Is printed in time for the earliest trains in every direction. It arrives at Brantford, Galt, Dundas, St. Catharines, Frijnab and other towns in the vicinity of Hamilton, several hours earlier than the Toronto papers. It is delivered at points west, north and south of London, by the same trains which carry the London papers. Terms: six dollars a year, twenty-five cents a fortnight, three cents a copy.

THE EVENING SPECTATOR

Goes to press at 3:45 p.m. It contains the forenoon and afternoon telegrams, the local news of the day, etc. Delivered to subscribers at five dollars per year, or ten cents per week. Sold by news-vendors at two cents a copy.
All advertisements which are inserted first in the morning edition are inserted in the evening edition without extra charge.

THE WEEKLY SPECTATOR

Is published on Thursday morning in time to catch the first mails of the day. It contains eight pages, forty-eight columns of reading matter. Terms: $1.00 per year in advance.

FRIDAY, FEB. 3, 1882.

NORTH WENTWORTH.

The Liberal Conservative convention of North Wentworth did a good day's work yesterday, and opened a campaign which will culminate in victory next year. It was a large gathering of thoroughly representative men; and, while they displayed no uproarious enthusiasm, every man expressed a quiet, earnest conviction that the election of the party's candidates was fully within reach. The meeting was eminently a business meeting. The delegates were gathered for work, and there was no mere vaporing: the discussions all turned upon practical matters, the selection of the best man and consideration of the best methods to elect them. There was a most gratifying feeling of harmony, all being quite satisfied to work for those men, whoever they might be, who should be selected as the standard-bearers of the party.

The conviction of those present that victory will crown honest and earnest effort was based upon a careful review of the situation. The adverse majority in Beverly, it is certain, will be very largely reduced, and the Conservative majority in Dundas will be increased by a hundred, while the two Flamboros will retain their own. There against the principle of a partisan Legislature taking out of the hands of a court a case which the court is competent to handle.

There are indications that a similar case will come up the present session. A part of the officials of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce railway made a contract with the Grand Trunk railway to hand the former road over to the latter. Another contract was subsequently made to amalgamate it with the Northern and Northwestern. No doubt the courts can decide which agreement is legal and valid. But petitions are now pouring in to the Legislature asking it to interfere and to confirm the bargain with the Grand Trunk. As the Grand Trunk helps Toronto interests, and as the Hamilton and Northwestern is a "Hamilton enterprise," there is strong probability that the Legislature will reject its natural master and enact the required law in Toronto's interest.

We protest against this whole system. It is no part of legislative functions to interfere in private litigation or favor particular interests. Its duty is general to the whole Province. It is the maker of laws, not the interpreter of them. That duty the courts should perform.

The matter of police protection is again beginning to make a noise, and some people, taking it for granted that the existing force is utilized to the best advantage, are crying out for more police. The force now paid by the city costs a great deal of money, and before increasing the expenditure the Commissioners should look carefully into the matter, and ascertain whether the force could not be distributed to greater advantage. This was recently done by sending two men to the Dundurn region, where lawlessness of all sorts was the rule, but where peace and quietness now exist. The center of the city seems to be quite as well protected now as it was before this change was made, and it might be well to try the experiment, so far so successful, of sending a few more policemen upon the roads, and to the more burd-ned ratepayers. To a casual observer the police force seems to be top-heavy with officers of various grades, who induce the actual patrol force, and to the condition of the solitary private in Artemus Ward's historical regiment. There seems to be a superabundance of sergeants and patrol sergeants, and the annals of the court do not prove conclusively that the four detectives do as much labor as would be a burden to two. There is nothing like having a force well officered, and it might be desirable for Hamilton to have all the chief-taking paraphernalia of a city of two or three times its size if we could afford it; but a vast majority of the ratepayers are most emphatically of opinion that the money now expended for police protection is all they can afford to pay. They look to the commissioners to have this money spent with a view of producing the greatest possible protection at the least possible expense. The citizens in the outskirts of the city want police protection. They should have it. Let the commissioners try the decentralization plan, and if that fails let them reduce the day force and make a corresponding increase in the night force. Let every plan be tried before increasing the expenditure.

the meeting was a little tea party, and the Reform party of Wentworth.

South Wentworth Brantford hall yesterday, doors, and none but those who could pronounce the shibboleth were permitted to enter. It has been ascertained however, that the members of the association were sworn into the army of Mowat, after which they were put through a course of drill, with pikes and bayonets, to prepare them for the coming war. At the close of the general drill Colonel Patterson is said to have addressed the army, complimenting them upon their fine, soldierly appearance, and saying that they were the finest body of men it has been his privilege to inspect during his present tour of inspection. He then thoroughly instructed the men in the western extension motions, winding up with the setting 'em up drill.

People who are inclined to smile at the warlike threats of General Oliver Mowat, in respect of the boundary award, certainly must have forgotten the carnage and destruction which marked the sanguinary war organized by General A. T. Wood of this city, because of the refusal of the Dominion Government to go back on the Pacific railway syndicate.

A Toronto brewer advertises for a general manager of a brewery: "none but a sober and industrious man." Even brewery owners appreciate the benefit of sobriety.—London Advertiser.

In the same way the proprietor appreciates truth, as between his employee and himself. But in the output of the brewer there is no sobriety, and everybody knows what the output of the Advertiser is.

The Province of Ontario, now that there is a prospect of it being plunged into a bloody and costly war, is to be congratulated upon the fact that the belligerent little statesman-warrior, Mr. Mowat, has a surplus fund of the signs of war.

The Ottawa papers are trying to inculcate the city government with the idea that it might be a good thing to connect the fire stations with the telephone system of the city; but they seem to have a hard time doing it. It is a good thing, as Hamilton knows.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Regular Meeting Last Night.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night, these members were present: Messrs. J. W. Meekins, chairman, Morgan, McLellan, Murray, Sutherland, Hill, Combe, Olivas, Fielding and Brennan.

The minutes of previous meeting having been read and confirmed.

A letter from Wm. Chappel was read asking that the board take into speedy consideration the matter of his wages in connection with the Hens street school. Referred.

The Internal Management committee submitted their first report as follows:

Your committee would recommend the appointment of the following teachers on the usual terms, viz: Miss L. Nimmo to B. H. street school and Miss Annie Mitchell and Miss Jennie McIntyre to the Cannon street school, and that the resignation of Mr. D. K. Clarke, one of the teachers in the Collegiate Institute, be accepted.

From Dundas—Thomas Hickey, Joseph Brown, D. W. Wilson, Dr. Walker, Thomas Cartner, J. Hourican, O. Fry, John Man, W. Lavery, H. Blockford, F. J. Collins, Alex. Bertram, W. C. Barrie, S. J. Leonard, W. Cowper, John Knowles, W. Casey, James Reynolds, A. T. Wilson, B. McKeechie.

Moved by Mr. Peables, seconded by Thos. Stock, that Robert McKeechie, Jr., be a candidate for the House of Commons at the next election. No other nomination having been made the president put the motion to the meeting, which was unanimously carried.

Mr. McKeechie addressed the meeting in a forcible speech accepting the nomination.

Moved by Patrick Freel, seconded by A. McKnight, that the selection of a candidate for the Ontario Legislature be deferred for the present. Lost.

Moved in amendment by Alex. Brown, seconded by K. Wishart, that this convention do select a candidate for the Ontario Legislature. Carried.

Moved by Thomas Stock, seconded by R. T. Wilson, that A. B. Wardell, Esq., be selected as a candidate at the next election for the Ontario Legislature.

Moved by Dr. Walker, seconded by Andrew McKnight, that Thomas Stock, Esq., be the candidate at the next election for the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Stock declined to be put in nomination.

Alexander Brown, of East Flamboro, was nominated, but he declined to be a candidate, and Mr. Wardell's nomination was made unanimous.

Moved by Thomas Stock, seconded by Kenneth Wishart, and Resolved, that the Conservatives of North Wentworth, in convention assembled, desire to express their unwavering confidence in the administration of Sir John McDonald, and hereby approval of the policy of the Liberal-Conservative party as developed in Parliament.

That we believe the plan adopted for the construction of Canada's great national railway to be the best, the most satisfactory and the most economical which was possible; we deprecate any attempt to make it a partial failure; and we denounce as unwise and unpatriotic the effort to convert it into a mere feeder of the Northern Pacific railway of the United States.

That we see in the National Policy the best system for building up our manufacturing industries, securing to labor its honest reward, to the manufacturer a fair profit, to the consumer, reasonable prices, to the farmer the best possible home market, and to the public treasury a sufficient revenue; we have accordingly the introduction a part of all business

Arrest of Dr. Griffith for Bigamy—Extensive Robbery of Boots—A Wealthy Pickpocket—The First Tobogganing Party—The Duty on Grapes.

OTTAWA, Feb. 4.—At the police court this morning, Dr. Griffith, an employe of the Department of Railways and Canals, was arraigned at the instance of Mr. Goodbells, on a charge of bigamy, as has already been telegraphed. The doctor recently married Goodbells' daughter, and on it being rumored that he had a wife and several children living in Fergus, Ont., Goodbells questioned him about the matter. The doctor acknowledged that he had been married, but had got a divorce. Having nothing but his word to substantiate this assertion, Goodbells telegraphed to the former wife, and received the reply that they had not been divorced. On the strength of this Goodbells had the doctor arrested. The case has been remanded until such time as the first wife can be called to give evidence.

Among various daring thefts which have been recently committed in Ottawa, and which, so far as the public are concerned, had seemingly escaped the eye of justice, was one in which a case of boots was stolen from the premises of Mr. W. S. Brown, of Sussex street. Strange to say, the police were aware of the loss of the boots before the owner, and when Detective McVety went to the establishment to ask about the matter he found the parties engaged in the piece debating as to whether the case in question had not been overcharged in the invoice. He speedily set their mind at rest on that question; and soon afterwards proceeded to the village of St. Joseph, where he had no difficulty in tracing up a considerable quantity of the missing goods, which had been sold to villagers at low figures. Some sixty pairs of boots had been in the missing case, and he had the good luck to recover fully forty of them. The case of boots would seem to have been stolen by O'Connor, who is now in custody, and by him was sold to a party in the village in question for an amount far below its value. The sum O'Connor received for the lot was $80. The circumstances connected with the rest of the transaction will be made known when the affair comes before court.

Mr. John O'Donoghue, M.P., had his pockets picked on the way to the Union station last night. His wallet contained $50 and railway tickets.

Among a gang arrested here on suspicion of being pickpockets at the time his Excellency the Governor-General first came to Ottawa was an attractive youth, probably eighteen years of age. Like his associates he was very neatly dressed, had a gold watch and several hundred dollars in his possession when arrested at the station. One of the gang was Paddy Quinn, Chicago's most famous thief, who was somewhat disconcerted at the finding by the officers of $35,000 sewed up in his vest. The evidence brought

OFF THE TRACK.

Accident on the Northern Railway at Collingwood—A Brakeman Seriously Injured.

COLLINGWOOD, Feb. 4.—A rather serious railway accident happened here to-night on the main line of the N. & N. W. Railway. As No. 3 mixed train from Toronto was approaching the yard one of the switch cranks broke. The engine and one box car kept on the main line, the rest of the train taking the siding. Six freight cars are more or less damaged, some being smashed into splinters. None of the passenger cars left the track, but those on board had a narrow escape and a bad shaking up. As the engine and one of the freight cars parted from the rest, the brakeman, Frank Lewis, was in the act of stepping from one car to the other, but unfortunately he was not in time and was thrown to the ground from the top of the car and had his left arm mangled by a car passing over it. He also had other injuries inflicted about the head, but not serious. His arm has been amputated at the elbow.

The Coalfield Disaster.

COALFIELD, Va., Feb. 4.—The superintendent and two others went into the shaft about noon, but returned before reaching the bottom. They found no indications of fire. Another party of five went down this afternoon to repair the brattice and restore the ventilation. They remained below until 4 o'clock. The ventilation had been restored to the bottom of the shaft by 8 p. m. Relatives and friends of the victims and many people from the surrounding country are about the shaft waiting and watching. The disaster left twenty-seven widows and one hundred and eight orphan children. A subscription has been started at Richmond for the benefit of the stricken families.

upon the judge. But when the final words were spoken he struck the table violently and shouted, "And may the Lord have mercy on your soul. I would rather stand where I do than where that jury does and where your Honor does. I'm not afraid to die. I stand here as God's man, and God Almighty will curse every man who has had a part in procuring this unrighteous verdict. Nothing but good has come from Garfield's removal, and that will be the verdict of posterity on my inspiration. I don't care a snap for a verdict of this corrupt generation. I would rather a thousand times be in my position than that of those who have hounded me to death. I shall have a glorious flight to glory, but that miserable scoundrel Corkhill will have a permanent job down below, where the devil is preparing for him." After apparently shaking himself out, the prisoner turned to his brother, and without the slightest trace of excitement, conversed for some minutes before being taken from the court. Guiteau was taken back to the jail without an incident. He will be guarded day and night. The jail officials believe there is no danger of an attempt at suicide, at least until after the review of the case by the court en banc. Scoville stated that he understood that under section 845, revised statutes, he had until next term to file his bill of exceptions.

The Court—No, not exactly that. There's no particular time fixed for preparing exceptions.

Scoville—How long will I have?

The Court—The term will be kept open as long as you desire.

Scoville—I have till the 1st of March to file a bill of exceptions?

The Court—Yes.

District Attorney—Let it be understood then that a bill of exceptions shall be in by the 1st of March.

Scoville—If I can do it in a week I will. I move to postpone the final execution of judgment in this case to a reasonable time beyond the next term of the court, not exceeding thirty days after the end of said term.

Prisoner—Do I understand it is necessary to pass sentence until the matter is passed upon by the court en banc?

The Court—Yes. Sentence is passed, but execution is deferred.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—On sentencing Guiteau Judge Cox exceeded the limit a little and put the day as near the anniversary of Garfield's shooting as possible. Guiteau can only escape the gallows, which is already erected, by death or by becoming a maniac or imbecile.

moulds. His work did not satisfy Symington, and the boy says that he threatened last Saturday to kill him if he did not attend to his work. Shortly after this threat Miller made another mistake, and it so enraged Symington that he pulled the round-pipe out of the mould, covered with mollen glass, and struck Miller on the back of the neck, burning him badly. When Mrs. Watson, the boy's mother, went to see Symington about the affair, he said he did it purposely, and would do it again if occasion required. Symington was fined $20, $15 to be paid to the boy, with the alternative of 60 days in jail.

REMARKS.—The Toronto remarks: "The action of the division with the jewellery illustrates how much idiosyncrasy men can be guilty of. They were called in to inspect the depositions, they cautioned the proprietors to keep the affair as quiet as possible, and the press representatives were at first refused information, lest the publication of the facts would assist the escape of the burglars. Is it reasonable to suppose that the burglars, in the absence of a publication of the details of the robbery, would fancy that it had not been discovered, and that the police were not in search of them? Such a supposition is an insult to the intelligence of the thieves that they would be justified in resenting. Nothing is more apparent to the ordinary intelligence, however it may appear to the detectives, that when a thief commits a robbery he knows the police will be on his track at the earliest possible moment, and it makes no difference to him whether the details are published or suppressed. He will not fancy himself secure from pursuit because he does not read a record of his exploits in the newspapers, or imagine no pursuit is made. A little common sense is sadly needed in our police department."

Heavy Sea and Damage at the Beach.
The northeast storm of Sunday night at the Beach was a severe one. The sea ran up to the lantern on the pier and lighthouse, and the pier was completely submerged for three hundred yards in front of the lighthouse. On the south side pier the stone and timber was swept as if by a new broom. At the ferry the sea washed a deep furrow across the street, so that it will require filling in again before teams can be got to the ferry scow. Other damage was done to the landing. All the lines available were made fast to the ferry scow to keep her from mounting the pier. Those who like to witness a storm at the Beach should have been there Monday morning; the sea ran up to the railway track, and along the shore, the old timber is quite handy for shipping by rail. At noon the wind shifted to the southwest and blew a gale. The canal was very rough, caused by the action of the wind against a northeast sea.

H. & N. W. ROUND-HOUSE.—The new round-house at this city, just completed for the H. & N. W., is a first class commodious building. It is divided into three compartments, each containing tracks and pits for four engines. The roof is sheathed with iron inside, and the structure being of brick and iron, with small iron doors communicating between the three divisions, is practically fire proof. The pits are nicely floored and drained, so that it is easy and pleasant for a man to work in them under his engine. A double row of steam pipes fed from a large stationary boiler in the building is placed around the pit, and the necessity for this heating apparatus was seen to-day, when an engine was brought in, having just completed a run from Collingwood, covered with snow and ice. The whole is under the management of a capable foreman. The company is well satisfied with the manner in which Messrs. W. Addison & Sons, contractors, of this city, put up the building, which cost $20,000. A novel apparatus for drying the sand carried on the engines for use when the rails are slippery, is placed in a small building near the round-house. The wet sand is placed in a large iron receptacle, shaped like a funnel, with the large end up, and as it dries from the action of a coal stove placed underneath, drops out into a receiver through small holes in the funnel. The machine is thus automatic in its action. The road is doing a rushing business.

THE GERMANIA CLUB MASQUERADE BALL.—At the grand masquerade given by the Germania club, notice of which was accidentally left out of yesterday evening's edition of the SPECTATOR, there was a very large attendance and nearly all were attired in fancy costume, the most of which were furnished by the club. The ball room was decorated by comic pictures and festoons. Klöbes full quadrille band furnished excellent music. The ball was under the efficient management of Messrs. Halzfeld, Zingheim, Krouse, Geiss and Egner. The programme of dances was well arranged, and a fine supper was served on the lower flat at 12 o'clock, which was partaken of heartily. Dancing was again resumed after supper and was kept up till after four o'clock, when the company dispersed, all feeling satisfied that a more enjoyable evening could not have been spent.

MARK LANE EXPRESS REVIEW.
LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade the past week says: "All crops are healthy and their previous too rapid growth has been checked. The position for this time of the year is exceedingly good. The supply of wheat is restricted. Trade is completely ruled by foreign. Even the best samples have slowly declined since Monday. Inferior are unsalable. The foreign trade has diminished in expectation of lower rates. Prices declined Friday. Twenty-nine cargoes arrived, three sold. The values of oil cargoes declined 3s. 6d. Winter wheat to arrive has fallen 4s. Flour is in small demand. The foreign supply is increasing. Prices for useful brands are unchanged. Maize declined 6d.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The ladies' committee of the Boys' Home beg to acknowledge with thanks the following donations for the month of February: Mr. Charleton, 10 gallons of vinegar; Mr. Lee, 8 large loaves of bread; Mr. Curran, turkey, sausage, bacon, apples and potatoes; from the Young Men's Protestant association, basket of sandwiches; from the charity ball, sandwiches, etc.; Mr. Nichol, corn beef; Mr. Limen, corn beef and head cheese; Mr. Woods, half dozen brooms; Mr. McKillop, large loin of pork, heads, etc.; Mrs. Gooring, roast beef, mutton, cabbage, jar of fruit; Mr. O'Connor, bag of cornmeal; Mr. Leggat, barrel of oatmeal; Mrs. Beale, best steak and sausage; Mrs. Davis, fish; Mr. Hill, four loaves of bread; Mr. Ohlman, four loaves of bread; Mr. Campbell, pork cuttings and feet; friends in the market, meat, fish and vegetables. BURLINGTON CANAL.—Messrs. M. Leggat and James Turner, of the board of trade, the Mayor and Ald. Mason and Blaisler left for Ottawa Tuesday evening as a deputation to wait on the Government respecting the deepening of Burlington Bay canal. The following dispatch was received to-day from the SPECTATOR'S Ottawa correspondent: This morning an influential deputation from the Hamilton city council and the board of trade were introduced to Sir Charles Tupper, Minister of Railways and Canals, by the city members, Messrs. Kilvert and Robertson; and presented a memorial from each of these bodies, urging the deepening of Burlington bay canal, so as to admit vessels drawing fourteen feet of water, and the making of Burlington bay a harbor of refuge. Hon. D. McInnes, and Thomas White M. P. for Cardwell, accompanied the deputation. The deputation submitted various statements showing the amount of revenue and expenditure in connection with the canal, and the amount expended in other harbors in Ontario, and pointed out that while the latter had been liberally dealt with, Nothing had been expended on Burlington harbor, while the canal had received nothing except in so far as the outlay lately made by this Government in rebuilding the piers was concerned. The Minister received the deputation with great cordiality and their representation with ABINGDON LITERARY SOCIETY.—The meeting of the Abingdon Literary society took place on Saturday evening instead of on Friday, owing to a literary entertainment being held in an adjoining neighborhood. During the evening readings were given by Mr. T. Kelly and Mr. F. B. Platt; recitations by Mr. Charles Marehal and Miss Margery Gillespie, the latter giving her's in an especially creditable style; songs by Mr. Dixon, Mr. Springstead and Miss Robinson. A dialogue entitled The Hungry Traveler was acted by Mr. A. W. Jackson and Mr. D. Springstead in a manner that elicited hearty applause. Mr. Nicholson made an extempore speech on the subject of Amusements, which was well received. Arrangements were made to have an open meeting of the society on Friday evening, February 24, when a pleasant time is looked for.

THE WILD STORM.

Thrilling Experiences on a N. & N. W. R. Train.

OFF THE RAILS AT THE BURLINGTON CANAL.

While the people of Hamilton were slumbering in their beds last night and as the northeast wind was whistling about their respective domiciles (doing no damage hereabouts) little did they dream of the dangers it occasioned by land and water throughout the length and breadth of the land. The storm of yesterday evening and last night at Burlington Beach resembled the memorable one which occurred a few weeks ago, when the waters were dashed almost to the top of the lighthouse and strolling on the piers was not only an impossibility but a fatal proceeding. The oldest inhabitant has not been interviewed by any Times representative to-day with respect to any damage done by the gale in so far as Beach property is concerned, but the story of a passenger by the N. & N. W. express train, which should have arrived at 8.40 last evening but did not get in until 1.30 this morning, is of sufficient interest to publish. The traveller from the north, in conversation with our reporter to-day, said: "I was a passenger by the express train which is timed to arrive here at 8.40 in the evening. There were only a few passengers on board when the train arrived at Burlington village, which point was reached on time. As we approached the swing bridge over Burlington Canal a fearful gale was blowing from the northeast and the roar of the waters of the lake as they dashed against the piers, and the whistling of the blast and pelting of the rain against the cars, were such, as to almost make the stoutest heart quail. The cars several times rocked back and forward, and once or twice I thought we would be blown over into the ditch. I looked out and saw by the lights that we had entered upon the iron structure, but no sooner had the train done so than I saw a danger light exposed, and immediately afterwards the locomotive left the track, having an exceedingly narrow escape from tumbling off the bridge. Of course this incident was not communicated to the passengers in general. The conductor passed through and told them that there would be a slight delay in consequence of something having gone wrong with the engine, but had they known just what a narrow escape they had experienced, and that they would have to remain in their seats nearly all night, they would, like me, doubtless have been impatient enough to start off for the city on foot. There is no telegraph office at the bridge, so a messenger had to be dispatched to the nearest telegraphic station, and men with jack and screw were brought from Hamilsurmount with the auspicious horse shoe in flowers, and about the interior of a large number of choice flowers are placed. Floral booth number two is also tastefully decorated with flowers, and a handsome star design in front. Between these charming resorts a floral bell is placed, with the motto taste-fully worked in flowers, "Ring out the faults, ring in the true." Number three floral booth is equally well stocked with flowers. The apron booth is the chief attraction, and affords a field for purchasers of ladies' travelling companions, wall pockets and many other nick-nacks which the housewife delights in. Another very attractive feature of the show is the lemonade booth, where a young lady will preside dressed in the ancient costume of Rachel, and who will dispense lemonade to Jacob and the little sheep, fresh drawn from the well. The arrangements in this booth are complete, the well being handsomely festooned with evergreen, and the little bucket is manipulated by means of a chain and windlass. Sibyl's tent is another attraction in which the destinies of adventurers will be foretold. The refreshment tables are also gaily festooned with evergreens, and the significant "kettle and drum" are shown with pleasing effect. It is said the best Mocha, Hyson, Souchong, and other lines will be sold by ladies dressed in Quakeress costume. The platform at the end of the shed is prettily decorated with the motto "Women's Christian Temperance Union," and the background by a handsome design of a floral lyre. The whole has been executed under the management of Mesdames Chisholm, Hilton, Pratt, Miss Crawford, and other officers of the association. The following ladies preside at the different booths: Mesdames Middleton, Masón, McArthur, Sexsmith and Miss Smith, No. 1. Mesdames Elliot, Waddell, Duffield, Griffin, Cheeseldean, No. 2. Mesdames Lazier, Scott, McKeand, P. Hilton, Misses Henry and M. Cornell, No. 3. Messrs. Strachan, Watkins, Kelly, Burns, Ross, Miss Cornell, apron booth. y Clearwater, Manitoba. Shep-id a rushing business and lots were y snapped up at large prices. Among $300. Mr. Boyd afterwards l the Clearwater district and on makquiries about his property found out t was already registered in another 's name. He then went in search of waters of the lake as they dashed against the piers, and the whistling of the blast and pelting of the rain against the cars, were such, as to almost make the stoutest heart quail. The cars several times rocked back and forward, and once or twice I thought we would be blown over into the ditch. I looked out and saw by the lights that we had entered upon the iron structure, but no sooner had the train done so than I saw a danger light exposed, and immediately afterwards the locomotive left the track, having an exceedingly narrow escape from tumbling off the bridge. Of course this incident was not communicated to the passengers in general. The conductor passed through and told them that there would be a slight delay in consequence of something having gone wrong with the engine, but had they known just what a narrow escape they had experienced, and that they would have to remain in their seats nearly all night, they would, like me, doubtless have been impatient enough to start off for the city on foot. There is no telegraph office at the bridge, so a messenger had to be dispatched to the nearest telegraphic station, and men with jack and screw were brought from Hamilton to replace the derailed locomotive.

The men had a terrible experience. So strong was the wind blowing that they were (while engaged at the work) in momentary fear of being blown into the canal. It was impossible for me to learn the cause of the accident, but I am almost certain it occurred owing to the action of the wind on the bridge, raising it up at the point of juncture with the rails on the land, just throwing the wheels off. The escape was a narrow one for the passengers, and had it occurred at the other end of the swing bridge nothing would have saved the train from being dumped into the canal."

A citizen who spent the night on Burlington Beach was interviewed this morning. He says it is a wonder that there was not a repetition of the Desjardins' Canal accident at the H. & N. W. swing bridge over Burlington Canal. When the locomotive left the rails (or failed to catch on to those on the bridge) she dragged the cars after her, breaking some twenty of the needle beams, or ties, and damaging others.
He says there is a hole completely through the bottom of the bridge, but the iron portion of it is uninjured.
Before being brought to a standstill she ran from the end to the centre, and the job of getting her back to the rails was one which was attended to with considerable danger to the employees. The weather was fearfully severe; the wind blew a perfect hurricane, accompanied by an almost blinding rain, and it was a matter of impossibility for any one to keep his feet on the bridge without holding on to something. The railway men deserve credit for having got out of the ugly mess as promptly as they did. Workmen are to-day engaged in making repairs, and no material delay in the traffic of the line will result in consequence of the mishap.

One of the railway officials says that only the front truck of the locomotive left the track, and that not the slightest inconvenience to traffic has been sustained.

OBITUARY.

Death of an Old Resident of Barton.
Amongst the death notices in the TIMES to-day appears that of Mrs. Gage, relict of the late Daniel Gage. The melancholy event occurred at the residence of her son Philip, in the township of Barton, from whence the remains will be conveyed for interment on Saturday. Deceased was born in the township, being a daughter of the late Mr.
Philip Jones, one of the pioneer settlers in this section of the country. She was held in high estimation by all who knew her, and her funeral will doubtless be very largely attended, so extensive is the circle of relatives and friends.

Death of Mrs. A. S. Henderson.
The many friends of Mr. A. S. Henderson, brother of our townsman, Mr. George Henderson, will regret to learn of the death of his wife, which occurred at Woodstock, on the morning of the 10th inst. The deceased was well known and kindly loved by many friends in Hamilton, and suffered a lingering illness of consumption for nearly three years, which she bore with Christian fortitude and resignation. The TIMES extends its sincerest sympathy to the bereaved husband and relatives.

Death of Mr. A. Thompson, of Port Dover.

The death of Mr. Andrew Thompson, of Port Dover, is announced. Mr. Thompson was one of the earliest pioneers of Dunn-ville, having been established there before the work for supplying the water for the Welland Canal was completed, and was largely engaged in the mercantile, lumbering and milling business for many years.
His sobriquet of "King Andrew" was universally endorsed and accepted. He died on Tuesday last, aged about 77 years, and was requested by all who knew him.

A BREAK DOWN.—The H. & N. W. R. R train that was due to arrive here at 8.40 Wednesday, was delayed till 1.20 yesterday. The cause of the delay was owing to the front trucks of the engine becoming misplaced at the swing bridge. The heavy wind from the northwest threw the bridge a little out of line with the rails and truck. The front truck of the engine striking the misplaced ends of the bridge rails, had the effect of knocking the trucks all out of shape. The engine was jacked up, and the damage repaired as soon as possible.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.—The regular quarterly meeting of this society was held at the Royal Hotel last evening. Present—Messrs. Thompson, President, in the chair, Vice-President McMaster, Secretary W. F. Findlay, David McLellan, J. Hutchinson, A. R. Kerr, A. D. Stewart, Ian Mackenzie, Major John Glasgow, James Davidson, Alex. Hendrie. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The reports of the Treasurer and Secretary were received and adopted. The report of the charitable committee, presented by Chairman Glasgow, showed that $64.28 had been disbursed, which included 27 orders and 8 passes granted. The following new members were balloted for and elected: Messrs. Thomas J. Watson, Alex. Campbell, Christopher Clark, Donald Smith, Donald Mackenzie Ross, Alex. Robinson.

AND DIES IN ABJECT TERROR.

There now seems to be no reasonable doubt that the mystery of the murder of John B. Sage, of Brantford, has at last been cleared up. It is also morally certain that the hand that slew Sage is cold in death, and that the murderer will never in this world be punished for his crime.

It will be remembered that, last winter, the Spectator published a letter from an undertaker in Brooklyn, N. Y., which letter set forth the fact that a young man from this part of the country had died of smallpox in the hospital there. The dead man had no friends in Brooklyn, and the undertaker wrote to the Spectator in the hope that the letter might catch the eye of some person in Canada who was interested in the dead man. This letter was followed, some time after, by another from William Barr, of Brooklyn, who said that the dead man, whose name was Alfred Wood, had, during his last illness, told his landlady that he had killed a man in Canada by striking him on the head with a billiard cue. Barr followed his letter up with a statement.

Alfred Wood

Canadian myself, and knew Hamilton and Brantford pretty well, we got talking about these places. He told me he had been a brakeman on the Grand Trunk, and that when he was paid off he went to Brantford, where he worked for Mr. Cookhouse. He was well posted about Brantford, and spoke of the Cookhouse road, Bow Park farm, and other places. After talking a while he seemed anxious to stop the conversation about Brantford, and afterwards I always found him disinclined to talk about Canada. Once when I came down to breakfast I said to him: "It's a fine day; suppose we take a run up to Canada?" He said, "It wouldn't be very healthy for me to go there. If I could go free it would be all right." Wood was a black smith's helper in Brooklyn, and worked on the day shift. He applied to the foreman to be put on the night shift, and was changed. He told a fellow-workman that every time he saw a stranger come into the shop he thought it was a detective from Canada after him. Mrs. Taylor told me that if anybody chanced to knock at the door when Wood was at his meals, he would get up and go to his room; he seemed to be in constant terror of somebody or something. Some time after I left Mrs. Taylor's Barr was taken sick of the smallpox. He told Mrs. Taylor that he had a great secret to tell her, and asked her to watch for the coming of the hospital ambulance, saying that he would tell her when it arrived. She saw the ambulance coming and told him so. Then he said:

"When I was in Brantford, Canada, I engaged in a game of billiards; I struck a man on the head with a cue and he fell dead—I murdered him, and if I stayed there I would get 25 years or be hung."

After Wood was taken to the hospital, and during the delirium of the fever, he continued shouting that the "detectives from Canada" were after him. His ravings were most horrible and he died an awful death. He told a woman that if he could get papers signed to allow him to go back to Canada a free man, he would willingly work a year in New York for nothing.

Some time after I wrote to the Spectator Eliza Metler came along. She had two men with her, and she told me they were detectives from Canada. She afterwards told Mrs. Taylor that they were New York Central conductors. She said she lived at Fort Erie, and that she was Wood's mother-in-law. She said she wanted to get a certificate of his death, as he had left her daughter in a critical condition. She told me she was going to see the undertaker to get the certificate; but I found out afterwards that she did not go. She acted very strangely, and I tell you there is something crooked about her. She said that when she got back to Fort Erie she would have the whole business advertised in the papers, and that she would send me a copy; but she never did either. She said she saw an account of Wood's death in the Spectator.

A very enthusiastic public meeting was held in the Assembly Hall of this village on the evening of the 9th inst., to consider the advisability of soliciting the managing directorate of the Northern & Northwestern Railway Companies to include them to connect the village of Hillsdale per passenger coach with the main line of the N. & N. W. Railway. The meeting was well attended by most of the business men of the locality. W. H. Black (Coke M. B.), seconded by Roy W. H. Cooke, moved that the Rev. of Mr. J. Martin take the chair and that Mr. R. P. Davis act as secretary. Dr. Black took, being called upon, briefly addressed the meeting, and most happily explained the object of assembling the people, and set forth in a very telling manner the very great advantage to be derived from the securing of a regular passenger train to the village and its vicinity. In conclusion the Dr. read the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

Mr. T. M. Edmondson is running in the Townships of Flos and Medonte, and is elected by the ability and energy he is a very heavy ratepayer, and at ayers of Maria will do well to support Mr. O'Leary in preference to a man who, though in Maria to-day may be in Greenhurst or elsewhere to-morrow. For the Council there is a grand scheme. Mr. Peter Thompson will head the list as he deserves, while it is expected Mr. Boulton will stand second.

Council met Dec. 9th. Members all present. By-law passed fixing place of nomination and election; also to appoint Deputy-Returning Officers, as follows:—Joseph Fox, No. 2; Wm. B. Thompson No. 3; Jas. E. Elder, No. 4; and James Glegg, No. 5. On motion of Mr. Sullivan seconded by Mr. Thompson, the tax on building against $1.12, concession 7, in the name of James Doonan, be reduced amount of dog tax $1 as the dog is not on the premises, and Michael Flood is the party who pays the tax, and that the tax be removed from John McLean's tax bill, he being assessed for a ditch and destroyed. Also dog tax again that following:—J. Corrigan, J. Morris, W. Ferguson, H. McLean, James Kelly, and Jas. Conway, each; B. J. Flynn, $2; the Clerk to hand the parties certificate to abundant tax. On motion of Mr. Sullivan seconded by Mr. Thompson, James Kelly was paid $3 to have the logs, stumps, and sticks removed of the lot on west of Centre Road to side line, to $10 to put in culvert across side line (opposite J. Fox's ditch); also A. G. Conway, $2.88, to define side line between lots 20 and 21, con. 8. On motion of Mr. O'Leary, seconded by Mr. Bruce, Mrs. Hawill (tax was cancelled with respect; also tax on lot of M. J. O'Leary, seconded by Mr. Thompson that Wm. Corrigan be paid $2 extra on culvert on side line lots 16 and 17, con. 10, for having been stopped of work on his loss by the Municipality. That John Doonan be paid $5 on work done on col. 7, should the Commissioner report favorably. P. Eszih, breaking stone, $2; John Walsh, intelligent, $5. On motion of Mr. O'Leary, seconded by Mr. Bruce, Chas. McLean was granted timber on the side line between lots 6 and 6, con. 12, to chop the rock 4 rods wide and to define the line. Chas. T. M. EDMONDSON,

TO THE ELECTORS
OF ORILLIA,
GENTLEMEN.

The time is fast approaching when the public will be called on to elect their Mayor for the year 1883. At the request of a large number of Ratepayers I am a candidate for that high and important office, and if you think me worthy of the position I shall be glad to have your votes and influence. I have served you in the past as one of your Councillors and have at all times done what I thought best for the interests of Orillia, the town of my adoption, and I were only all at stake, so what is of interest to you will also be to me.

My conduct in the past must have guaranteed in the future, and should you be fit to elect me I will do my best to fill the position with credit to myself and honour to the town.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
FRANK KEAN.
